Edward Carlisle Caucus Candidate For President

A COUPLE WHO WILL VOTE in their first village election in April, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Zerrien, 113 S. Belmont (left), meet the Caucus party candidates for village president and clerk. They are Edward G. Carlisle, mayoralty candidate (second from right) and Mrs. Mildred O. Pearson, nominated for clerk. The Zerriens moved here 18 months ago. He is a traffic engineer for the federal civil defense administration.

When the fifth and final ballot was tallied shortly before midnight Monday, the slate of candidates of the 1957 Arlington Heights Caucus party was completed as follows:

For vilagel president—Edward G. Carlisle, 53, of 1006 S. Vail, a commercial engineer and a village trustee from 1951 to 1955. He is employed by Illinois Bell Telephone co. and has lived here 10 years.

For vilalge clerk—Mrs. Mildred O. Pearson, 503 N. Haddow, a housewife with clerical and auditing experience, has been treasurer of March of Dimes and active in women's and church groups. She has been a resident 6 years.

For village trustee (3 vacancies) — Robert H. Bukowski, 34, of 810 N. Dunton, a loan officer at the Continental-Illinois bank in Chicago. Has lived here 6 years.

Melvin L. Kurtz, 49, of 805 S. Mitchell, a 20-year resident and assistant sales manager for Universal Atlas Cement co. Formerly on the school board (1946-1955) and active in YMCA and Boy Scouts.

Wendell L. Prunty, 47, of 413 S. Highland, an assistant credit manager at Pure Oil co., a local resident for 6 years and active in professional circles and locally in church activities.

ALL OF THOSE elected to the slate were among the 10 persons recommended as "well qualified" by a 12-man candidate selection committee, the Caucus' screening board appointed in January. Two persons were recommended for each of 5 vacancies to be filled in the April 16 municipal election.

Floor nominations were invited from the audience of about 250 but only one person, incumbent Trustee Robert B. Bishop, was nominated from the floor.

First asked by a floor supporter to seek the president candidacy, he declined, but later was put up as a trustee nominee. Bishop lost out to Kurtz on the fifth ballot, after he had once withdrawn and later put his name back onto the list.

CARLISLE and Mrs. Pearson were elected with one ballot; 4 ballots were needed, however, to pick 3 trustee candidates out of a field of 8. The 4 votes were cast because of a procedural rule that winning candidates must receive a vote equal to a majority of ballots cast. On the second trustee ballot, 2 positions were won by Bukowski and Prunty but the third slot was not nailed down by Kurtz until a final 11:45 p.m. vote.

Carlisle swamped his only opponent, Davis G. Whittier, by a count of 195 to 35. Whittier, 32, of 1219 Wilke rd. in Virginia Terrace, a resident of 3 years, is an assistant sales manager and a former alderman in Menominee, Mich.

'Not Available' For Caucus: Davis

Forrest F. Davis, incumbent trustee on Arlington Heights village board, announced last Thursday that he was not available for re-election on the Arlington Heights caucus slate.

Davis made his announcement in clarifying a statement in last week's Herald.

"The only statement I made was that upon invitation from the political party recently formed and publicized, I have submitted a reply indicating that I am an available candidate, but that it would not prevent me from joining another group of similar character," said Davis.

The trustee explained that, although not a part of the caucus, he was interested in the "novel experience" of being screened by the caucus.

400 Mothers Push Polio Fund Upward

The 1957 March of Dimes ended with a march of over 400 mothers last Thursday between 7 and 8 p.m.

Mrs. Barney Erickson, treasurer, reported collections of $5,318.50 bringing the campaign total to over $9,000.

Mrs. Wesley D. Kasl, chairman of the Mother's March praised the community spirit of participating mothers whose individual efforts contributed so greatly to the success of the campaign.

THE ELEMENTARY and high school contributions totaled $1,965.67. Mrs. Jack Keller and her Committee performed an outstanding job in handling these school contributions.

Contributions received by mail amounted to $1,350.38. Coin containers distributed to stores by Mrs. George F. Nuernberger and Mrs. W. W. Holloway and their Committee accounted for $223.65. Cards distributed by Police Department Personnel brought in $121.52 and local organizations donated $60.

Deadline Set For Stickers

February 15 — just 8 days away—is the deadline for purchasing vehicle tax stamps in Arlington Heights.

Village board set the deadline Tuesday night after Clerk Carl Weinrich reported that only 2,931 stamps had been sold this year to date against 3,233 last year.

Village Wants Out Of Sanitary District

Set Public Hearing For Street Widening Projects

The first public hearing on the long-awaited street widening project for the central area of Arlington Heights has been set for 9 p.m., Friday, Feb. 15.

Widening of Vail, Dunton and Evergreen to 48 feet south of St. James st. by special assessment will be proposed. Dunton would be widened to 38 feet between St. James and Euclid.

A week later a hearing is slated on a south side project for the widening of Vail and Evergreen from a point south of Campbell to Sigwalt and Sigwalt from State rd. to Highland, the latter to 38 feet.

The 38-ft. width will permit retention of a maximum number of trees. The village's share of the special assessment cost has not been determined.

Learns Didn't Live Here After All--7 Tags Later

After 7 years Mr. and Mrs. Sigurd W. Anderson of 1016 N. Wilke rd. are legal residents of Arlington Heights.

This is the story Anderson told the village board Tuesday: "In May of 1948 I applied for annexation to the village and left soon after for Denver where we stayed almost 2 years because of my mother's illness."

"I ASSUMED we were residents of the village. We did all our shopping here and, as a matter of fact, I bought the village vehicle tax stamp every year," Anderson continued.

"When the court recently ruled that Arlington Crest was not a part of Rolling Meadows, I discovered that we were not legal residents of Arlington Heights either," he concluded.

Anderson told his story in connection with another annexation petition he had filed recently.

This time the board agreed to make Anderson's property part of the village.

Seize Auto 10 Minutes After Reported Stolen

Ten minutes after an Arlington Heights car dealer reported theft of a 1956 Ford Victoria to local police Friday night, police in Mt. Prospect spotted and stopped the car.

Five youths, all 14 and 15 year olds from the northwest suburban area, were apprehended. Four denied knowledge of the theft and were released to their parents.

The fifth youth, with a previous record of juvenile offenses, was turned over to county authorities. The car was reported stolen from Poole garage about 9:15 p. m. Friday.

SEVERAL WINDOWS above the Vail st. entrance to the Vail-Davis apartments, 17 W. Davis, were broken some time Friday night, Mrs. Fred C. Lingren told police. Nails had been removed and a break-in may have been attempted. In another Friday night incident, Arthur Gieseke, 1521 S. Belmont, operator of Gieseke Ice co., said a coin mechanism on an ice machine was pried off and about $10 removed. The vending machine was on the highway near Kensington rd.

Two auto motors and scrap aluminum with a value of about $300 were stolen Sunday from rear yards and loading platforms of N. Hickory ave. plants, owners informed police.

One slight injury was reported from auto accidents. Lynda Peterson, 15, 108 N. Elmhurst, Mt. Prospect, received a bump on the head Monday. She was a passenger in an auto driven by Stanley U. Peterson, 17, 318 S. Ioka, Mt. Prospect, which was caught between 2 cars at Northwest hwy. and Dunton when attempting to cut into the outside lane. The other drivers were Reinhold F. Schwann, 17, of 302 S. Edward, Mt. Prospect, and Gary Gappert, 17, of 620 E. Lincoln, Arlington Heights.

'57 Heart Drive Workers Named

Arlington Heights 1957 Heart Fund Drive organization is nearly complete, reports Mrs. Robert Phillips, 538 S. Pine st., chairman of the local committee.

IN ADDITION, states Mrs. Phillips, for the first time the business section of the town has been organized with Donald R. Hartman, 1021 N. Princeton ave., as chairman. Mr. Hartman is a member of the staff of the Lauterburg and Oehler Funeral Home, and is past president both of the chamber of commerce and of the Kiwanis Club.

Charles H. Wilson, 834 S. Belmont, President of Charles H. Wilson, realtors, is serving as treasurer of the campaign, and the Federal Savings and Loan association of which he is also president, will act as a depository for campaign funds.

All local service organizations have been circularized by letter, says Mrs. Phillips, and "we are confident that the generosity of contributors throughout the community will help us easily to top the goal of $5,000."

THE HEART FUND drive, with its goal of $910,000, is conducted through February, and is climaxed by Heart Sunday February 24, when volunteer workers call on their neighbors between one and four o'clock in the afternoon to give each individual an opportunity to contribute to the campaign which seeks to improve national health through the control of heart disease.

Trustees Await Feb. 19 Report

Arlington Heights wants out of the Metropolitan Sanitary District.

Although the village board Tuesday night tabled a motion to initiate a suit to test the constitutionality of the act setting up the recent annexation referendum, the trustees left little doubt that the village should disconnect from the district and operate its own sewage plant.

What action the village will take may be determined at the February 19 meeting when Attorney Hugo Thal said he would be ready to make recommendations.

The motion to sue was offered by Trustee Richard Bronwell, who has been an outspoken opponent of the district. His proposal was prompted by Thal's report that he was not making any substantial progress with Sanitary District officials toward the possibility of the district taking over the village's bonded indebtedness of "over $500,000" on its present disposal plant and equipment.

Before the board voted on Bronwell's motion, however, Trustee Forest Davis asked that it be tabled until the next meeting. President Albert Goedke broke the 3-3 tie by voting to table the motion.

TRUSTEES BISHOP and Millay voted with Bonwell for immediate action on the suit while Trustees Hoover and Weber and Goedke supported the Davis motion to delay it.

There appears to be 2 possibilities by which the village may disconnect from the district. One is to have the act setting up the recent referendum declared unconstitutional and the other would involve action by the state legislature.

Which avenue of escape the village might try is anybody's guess. Although Thal indicated that there is no provision in the act under which the village could disconnect from the district.

SOME OBSERVERS believe that the best course is to test the constitutionality of the whole deal. If the referendum, which brought some 18 communities into the district, were declared unconstitutional district boundaries would be greatly reduced. Legal fees, however, for such action were not estimated by Thal but it presumed that it might be a fairly expensive undertaking.

The majority vote for the referendum last November provided for the annexation of the 18 communities regardless of the vote in the individual communities. This all or nothing deal, observers say, may be the basis for having the referendum declared unconstitutional.

Arlington Heights board claims that the village can save some 2.5 million-dollars over a 20-year period by operating its own disposal plant.

"It will cost the average taxpayer almost twice as much to be in the sanitary district as to continue to pay taxes for the operation of our existing sewage treatment plant," the board said in a pre-referendum statement.

Hanover township is now seeking court approval for its petition to disconnect from the district.

Palatine Man, 29, Killed In Train Accident

Services were held in Chicago Monday for a 29-year-old Palatine man killed last Wednesday night while apparently attempting to alight from a train as it pulled out of Arlington Heights depot.

A coroner's jury Friday ruled accidental the death of William Leinen, 429 W. Hellen rd., a printing salesman.

He is survived by his wife, Joann, and children, Rory, 5, a kindergarten pupil at Paddock school, and Robert, 3, Bruce 2 and Valerie, 9 months.

AT THE INQUEST in Arlington Heights, testimony brought out that Leinen, intending to leave the Woodstock-bound commuter train at Palatine, apparently became confused when the train arrived in Arlington.

Brakeman John F. Michaels said he saw a man leave the middle car of the 7-car train, stand on the platform for a moment and board the train before it started moving.

A witness to the accident, Alfred Leech, 621 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, said he saw a man who was hanging onto the handrail of the moving train loose his footing and grip and slip beneath the wheels. Leech added that the man was apparently "trying to board" the train.

Michaels, another brakeman and a conductor all testified the platform was clear before the train started to pull out.

ALL BUT ONE SET of trucks on the 3 rear cars passed over Leinen's body according to witnesses. A doctor pronounced him dead on the scene shortly after the 11:58 p.m. police call. The fatal mishap occurred on the southernmost track, 15 feet on the east side of Dunton ave.

Conductor Harold P. LaCrosse said Leinen, riding in the middle car, was asleep when he asked for his ticket as the train left the Chicago station at 11:10 p.m.

Railwaymen said the train had moved about 3 car lengths before a woman screamed and a conductor pulled a stop whistle. The train had traveled its own length out of the station before coming to a halt.

Police Sgt. Raymond Jahnke and Officers Howard Hildebrand and Fred Mueller of Arlington Heights were at the scene.

THE LEINEN family moved to Palatine a year ago. Leinen was employed in Chicago at Coburn and Co. printing firm owned by his father-in-law, Richard W. Coburn of Chicago.

Leinen was born in Racine, Wis. and was a graduate of Lane Technical high school in Chicago. He served overseas in the navy during World War II as a metals specialist and was recalled to the service during the Korean war.

The Editor's column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

It must be quite a shock to Barrington people to learn that a developer has invaded that township and if the court approves there will be a new village municipality to be known as village of Barrington Hills.

Is there any reason why the estate area of that township should not be required to take the same medicine as Palatine, Wheeling and Elk Grove?

While Palatine has been talking about off-street parking, a shopping center developer has secured approval of the zoning board of appeals to the use of 14 acres at Palatine's north boundary for that purpose.

While the county board is deferring action on the recommendation, there is every reason why Palatine business interests should get busy on their proposed parking, which in turn means digging down deep for funds to save the present business district.

Our mail Tuesday brought in news stories of 12 rezoning applications and approval of 6, all in the northwest area. Perhaps the new county zoning provisions cause the activity.

Property owners can no longer sit idly by and think "It can't happen here." Evidently tight money is having little effect upon developers, but individual buyers find it is very difficult to get mortgage commitments.

The wife of a navy man, who is in a government hospital, came to Paddock Publications Tuesday with a problem, which we are passing on to our readers.

She is residing in a trailer camp in Elk Grove with her 3 children, aged 10, 6 and 3 years old. She cannot visit her husband unless she can find a baby sitter, for which her means are limited.

To help out the family until her husband can return home, she has been working evenings, which must be given up if she has no person to watch over her children.

Her problem is increased because of the possibility her husband, who has 18 years' service in the navy, may lose retirement pay if he is discharged because of disability.

Her position presents a community problem that we can't answer. Any person who desires to aid this mother should call CLearbrook 5-8954.

Increasing interest will be shown the next 2 months in the candidates who ask consideration of the voters. Here is a paragraph of a letter addressed to Arlington Candidate Selection committee that we consider very opportune at this time. After asking that his name not be considered, he said:

"It is extremely important that any party which may seek to elect a slate of candidates carefully select sincere, forthright, mature, intelligent, civic-minded men, who, as a group, are unified in thought, purpose and understanding, being inspired to the right action for the good of all citizens of our community.

'Time and experience has taught me that men's principles and ideals vary considerably and oftentimes are far apart. Extreme caution must be exercised by any person willing to make himself available for public office, particularly when aligning himself with new associates."

We were surprised by the announcement of the Arlington Heights candidate selection committee that it could not find any businessman willing to become a candidate for the village board.

Arlington Heights is so large we doubt if any businessman would suffer financially because of his stand on village affairs.

We say more power to the Chicago judge who refused a warrant to a wife who wanted to search an office building for a tin can in which she thought her husband had hidden his wealth.

She said she had counted $240 in the can 2 years ago and thought it had doubled since then.

We agree with the judge that a husband who is able to hold out $240 from his wife is entitled to keep it.

As we hear from all sides the plea, "Let Uncle Sam foot the bill," we wonder where and how Uncle Sam will get the money to meet the requests which the lobbyists have turned into demands.

We got our answer from the last bulletin of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, which quoted Marguerite Stitt Church, who it termed "the outstanding Congresswoman from Illinois," as follows:

'I've been fighting for government economy ever since I came down here. But to achieve this, it takes more than a Congress with courage to vote for it. It also requires a realization by the folks back home that there is no such thing as public money. The federal funds they keep asking for all come out of their own pockets in the end. What is needed is self discipline all down the line."

Fire Siren's Scream Soon To Become A Relic Of Past

The scream of the fire siren, as familiar to Arlington Heights as the toot of the steam whistles once was, is also on the way out.

THE SIREN will be replaced by a special telephone signal in the homes and business places of the village's volunteer firemen under a proposal contained in a letter from Fire Chief Elroy J. Winkelman to the village manager.

In the letter Chief Winkelman outlined plans to integrate operations of volunteers and full-time firemen. The retirement of the siren is one of many changes to come. The letter will probably be discussed at the next village board meeting.

Hiring of the regulars at a yearly salary of $4,740, same as that of public works employees, was authorized some time ago but posting of hiring notices has been held up pending determination of hours of work and other details.

HERE IS HOW the 2 fire stations would operate:

Four full-time firemen would man the north side station (due for completion about March 1), each to work three 24-hour shifts a week. The chief said it would be better to have 2 regulars work together at the station than to place 1 man at each station. Volunteers would staff the north side station 1 day a week, at hourly pay rates comparable to regulars' pay.

Volunteers would continue to staff the village hall station, with 2 to be on duty nightly. Winkelman said only volunteers would be needed on the south side because 10 men are close to the station at all times.

Age limits of 21 to 35 years of age are suggested and the chief asked that hiring preference go to present volunteer firemen. The department is now working on a plan to send regulars to the Chicago Fire school.

Although a 48-hour week once was mentioned, the chief wrote that-"the cost of the short hour work week, we believe, would be prohibitive for our town at this time . . ."

Full-time firemen would answer all fire and inhalator calls, maintain equipment and help make fire inspections.

ILLINOIS BELL Telephone co. can furnish firemen with a "conference circuit" which would enable the police radio operator to call volunteers directly and send them out on calls. A private line is also proposed to link up the 2 fire stations and the police stations.

Volunteers have done "an excellent job protecting the village," stressed Chief Winkelman, adding "we in no way want to reduce their future effectiveness."

Encouraging Children Essential For Development

by MRS. G. D. SOLTZ

Everyone knows that children need encouragement. It is as essential to their development as food is. However, there are times when the thing we say to give encouragement brings the opposite result.

How can this be?

In order to understand this and to give each child the kind of encouragement he needs, we must understand the child.

SAYING, "I know you can do it" may spur one child on to added effort and furthur discourage another child. The first child may be seeking parental approval. The second child may feel complete inadequacy.

When we tell him we know he can do something he feels even further imposed upon and feels that we really don't know how helpless he is. But, understanding how he feels isn't enough. We need to understand why he feels this way.

What does the child gain by feeling so inadequate? What is the unconscious goal of his behavior?

THIS CHILD may be using inadequacy or helplessness as a means of putting others into his service and thereby finding a place within the family. Of course, the child is unaware that he does this. He may feel that unless everyone waits upon him, he doesn't belong. His position within the family may give him the impression that no matter how hard he tries, he hasn't a chance among the other more effective members.

To the skilled observer, each behavior pattern has a goal and is clearly seen.

When we learn to look carefully at the child's behavior, we see the goal which the child attempts to reach. Parents are helped in this sort of discovery at the Child Guidance Centers.

WE LEARN to understand that the behavior is the method of attack chosen by the child with which he hopes to overcome his difficulties and reach his goal. When we understand his position within the family, we can understand his choice of gaol.

Some methods are useful and constructive. Other methods of gaining his goal may be useless and destructive, since they are directed against the environment and against cooperation. The parent needs to learn to distinguish between the useful and the useless methods and to encourage the useful while preventing the useless methods from serving their purpose.

ENCOURAGEMENT means to stimulate within the child a feeling of self-confidence and self-assurance. Giving the child recognition for his efforts, attempts and successes helps to encourage him to try again.

The more deeply discouraged a child is, the more the parent must find to praise. His smallest effort should gain recognition, even though it falls for short of the goal the parent has in mind.

If the parent indicates in any manner whatever that the child has fallen below what the parent thinks he should do, that parent is only heaping furthur discouragement upon such a child.

Competition will act as a spur to further effort for some children and will deeply discourage others.

Parents must be taught to observe the results of their efforts to encourage and modify their own behavior accordingly. (B7

Sheriff Lohman Vows End To Slot Machines Here

Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman says he intends to "wipe out slot machines in all sections of the county" before he goes out of office the end of next year.

Lohman, who with 32 deputies seized 80 slot machines in 12 suburban clubs recently, warned he may invade Chicago in his drive to eliminate the one-armed bandits in fraternal and veterans' organizations.

HE TERMED the weekend raids the greatest strike so far in his campaign against gambling in private clubs.

"Hoodlums who put slots in a private club simply are using it as a cover of illegal activities. The benefits derived by the club from these slots are of a dire nature," he said.

"All slots inside the county, whether in public or private places, are out. All must go."

FRIDAY nights soon may become known as the sheriff's slot-date night.

The Friday night before Christmas the sheriff and his men raided 104 private clubs in the suburbs. They confiscated 13 slots in Evanston, 8 in Blue Island and 6 in Thornton.

In the latest raid, Berwyn was the leader with 18 slots seized, followed by Calumet City's 16.

TOTAL of slots grabbed in other south county villages last weekend: Lansing 12, Calumet Park 6, Stegar 4, and Chicago Heights 1.

In west county towns: River Grove 10, Cicero 8, and Maywood 5. (B7

Arlington Heights Has Its Own Home Bureau

Yes, Arlington Heights does have a Home Bureau organization.

In answer to many inquiries, it is called "Wheeling Township" unit of Home Bureau.

When the Home Bureaus were originally organized, all units were divided according to townships as the towns were all quite small in those days and one unit covered a whole township. Wheeling unit has maintained its original name due to the fact that it is one of the charter units of Cook county and just recently celebrated its 15th anniversary. Meetings are held the fourth Thursday of each month at the Farm Bureau building on North Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

Also in this vicinity are other units: Elk Grove meets the fourth Wednesday, Mt. Prospect the third Wednesday and Palatine the second Tuesday. All units in Cook county have the same advisor.

Anyone interested in Home Bureau is invited to attend whatever unit meeting is most convenient. Reports on activities of the various units are covered on the 4-H page of this newspaper. (A

Area Lions Clubs Demonstrate That Service Is Motto

by C. O. SCHLAVER

It has been said that if there are 3 service clubs in a community—"the Rotary owns it, the Kiwanis runs it and the Lions enjoy it."

If this be true, the reason for the Lions' enjoyment is apparently in the service they give. Such reasoning is promoted by an amazing listing of what clubs in the northwest area have been doing.

Here's the story of Lions' charities in the last 2 months:

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — Gave $400 for Northwest Suburban Council Boy Scouts and $150 for the club's scout troop.

BARRINGTON — Presented library board with check of $3,000 as proceeds from the Cadillac project . . . held an auction for benefit of retarded children.

GRAYSLAKE — Braille wrist watches were given to two children.

GURNEE — Presented portable radios to three blind children.

LAKE ZURICH — New park site is a major project . . . new weed cutter purchased for the lake.

MT. PROSPECT — After hearing a representative of Hadley School for Blind, Lions present at dinner meeting tossed $1 for each good eye in a plate to pile up $100, part of more than $1,000 donated to Hadley School since 1951. Skaters at Lions Memorial Park now enjoy their fun to music, thanks to amplifying equipment donated by the Lions.

PALATINE — Planned an ice skating carnival . . . donated balloons and cracker jack for Kids' Yule party.

PARK RIDGE — White Cane Tag Day raised $4,858 to aid the blind.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS — One school child was given needed dental care and another glasses. This is the club which spearheaded community effort to provide new swimming pool.

WHEELING — Donated $50 to Leader Dogs for Blind.

Apparently, the Lions are firm believers in the fact that charity begins at home and should not be shunted upon a governmental organization.

The Lions of District 1-F, comprising 35 clubs under leadership of Governor Ray Willer of Mt. Prospect, are to be congratulated. (B7

Professional Talent Is Planned For PTA Show

Professional talent and several college degrees are among the main ingredients in the tasteful musical dish being offered aboard the "PTA Limited" February 21 and 22.

For example, there is Clay Harvey, leader of the 9-piece band which has been selected for this third annual winter revue.

Head of the Crystal Lake Music department since 1951, he has a bachelor's degree from Chicago Musical college and a master's from Vandercook School of Music in Chicago. He has traveled as a trombonist with Wayne King, Gene Krupa, Jerry Wald and Teddy Powell. Last year his band and mixed chorus took first place in the state contest in Peoria.

VICTOR MILLER, 414 S. Lincoln lane, who has arranged the music for the show, has previously arranged music for Orrin Tucker and Benny Strong. For several years he worked full-time as an arranger and entertainer for exclusive private parties, including those given by the late Colonel Robert McCormick. He prepared for all this by obtaining two bachelor's and a master's degree in music at the University of Kansas.

A new professional entertainer will be born a few days after the revue when Jerry Duro, 836 N. Belmont, tenor aboard the talent train, will have his first recording released by the Kahill Recording company.

New Village For Barrington

The community of Barrington Hills will vote February 23 whether to incorporate as a village.

The incorporation petition for the Barrington township community was filed in County court by Attorney Caleb H. Canby III. The community lies between Middlebury and Barrington.

IT IS COMPOSED of a contiguous territory under 2 miles square and lies on the west and east sides of Brinker road from the county line on the north to a point south of the intersection of Bartlett and Dundee roads.

County Judge Otto Kerner set the election date with voting hours from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the community Consolidated School District 1 school house at County Line and Brinker road.

The area would take the name of its community and would be known as the village of Barrington Hills. (AP

Second Medical Center Nearly Ready

With the full occupancy of one medical center last month and the opening of another, larger clinic due soon, medical facilities for the Arlington Heights area have taken a leap forward.

WITHIN A FEW WEEKS perhaps later this month, the quarter-million dollar medical building at N. State rd. and Thomas st. will be completed. It will house about a score of doctors and dentists in ground and main floor office suites. Groundbreaking last March climaxed 3 years of planning by more than 10 local doctors.

Westgate medical center became fully staffed when a specialist in internal medicine moved in during January. With his arrival the staff numbers five, all young practictioners, with 2 of them starting their first practices.

THE MEDICAL CENTER is located at the west end of the Westgate shopping center and is equipped with the latest in medical equipment. All offices are air conditioned. Each suite of 1 to 3 rooms has its own laboratory facilities and a central reception room is provided.

Services available include those of an optometrist, obstetrician and gynecologist, pediatrician, internist and dentist.

The internist is Dr. Morton H. Friedman, who last year completed 4 years of internship and residency in internal medicine at Cook county hospital after graduation from the University of Illinois medical school. He and his wife are moving into a home in Rolling Meadows this week.

Dr. Frank J. Huebner, a dentist and graduate of the Loyola university school of dentistry in Chicago, has offices in Oak Park as well as Arlington Heights. He lives in the Bensenville area and is married and the father of 4 children.

PEDIATRICIAN for the new clinic is Dr. Edward K. Isaacson, a resident of Skokie and graduate of the medical college of the University of Illinois. He will also have office space in the Old Orchard shopping center medical building when it is completed shortly. His internship and specialized studies were taken at Michael Reese, Illinois Research and Cook County hospitals in Chicago. He is an associate in pediatrics at the Northwestern University school of medicine. He and his wife are the parents of boys 12 and 9 years old.

A daily commuter from Chicago is Dr. Paul Newman, an optometrist and graduate of the Illinois College of Optometry. He and his wife and child look forward to moving to the Arlington Heights area soon.

FOR DR. FRANK J. Pfeifer, as well as for Dr. Friedman, this is a first practice. A graduate of Loyola University school of medicine, Dr. Pfeifer recently completed a residency at St. St. Francis hospital in Evanston. The obstetrician is married and the father of 4, with a fifth child expected.

Office hours at the medical center are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., 6 days a week. (AF

Village Petitions Court For Sigwalt Paving Levy

Arlington Heights has petitioned the County court to determine the special assessment levy for paving Sigwalt st. between Kaspar and Ridge aves.

This suit filed last week also asked the court to ascertain a just compensation to be paid for private property taken or damaged. The court also was asked to determine the fair share of the cost for property owners concerned.

The village board passed an ordinance in January providing for the improvement of Sigwalt st.

Albert W. Goedke, president of the village board of local improvements, estimated cost of labor and materials at $34,913.50 and the cost of levying and collecting the special assessment at $2,094.80 for a total cost of $37,008.30.

THE WORK includes a concrete roadway, curbs and gutters, sidewalks, necessary storm sewers, catch basins and catch basins' connections and manholes for drainage of pavement storm water.

One storm water sewer will be constructed between the centerline of Salem and Fernandez aves. according to H. J. Thal, village attorney.

One of the residents said that more than 10 property owners would be assessed, including a number on adjacent side streets. The resident also said that a builder had estimated the cost of improvements at $20,000, if done by private contract. The builder is developing a subdivision which would be served by the street. (AF

Adults Hear Book Review

"Profiles in Courage," John Kennedy's book of acts of unusual bravery by statesmen, will be the subject of the review by Purdie Nelson Meissner in the library of Arlington High School at 8 p.m. Monday. The review is the fifth in the series of the World of Books Course sponsored by the Adult Education Division. Single admissions are available for any review in the series.

Kennedy has delved deep into the archives and has produced a book unusual in its content, spirited in style and eminently readable. The critics have been almost unanimous in according this book high praise and the reading public has kept it high on best-seller lists since publication. (ACM

Q. Does the father of a widow or divorcee, who is marryng for the second time, give her away?

A. Yes; her father gives her away precisely as he did at the first marriage. And her family again assumes the expenses of the wedding, unless she prefers to meet them herself.

Q. At an informal dinner, where there is no maid, who should start a dish around the table?

A. The person nearest the dish.

Q. After spending a week-end at a girl friend's home, should I address my bread-and-butter letter to her or to her mother?

A. To her mother.

Q. Is it really good form to eat popcorn or candy during the progress of a motion picture?

A. The popcorn and candy concession is an institution in today's theater. What you really should do is to try to avoid as much as possible the annoying rattle of paper and audible munching of your food.

Teen Scientist Winner Of State

An Arlington high school senior is one of 5 Illinois teen-agers yesterday named winners in the 16th annual Science Talent Search sponsored by Westinghouse Electric corp.

Jeffrey S. Hanor, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hanor, 729 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, has been awarded an all-expense trip to Washington, D. C. Along with 39 other winners throughout the nation, he will arrive in Washington March 7 to take part in the 5-day Science Talent Institute.

AT THE INSTITUTE top winners will be selected and the coveted Westinghouse science scholarships awarded. The 40 who will attend were chosen from a field of 20,145 aspirants.

Hanor won his honor by submitting a written report on a project he conducted at home during the school year and by passing a later test. He became interested in entering the competition when it was mentioned by high school faculty member Carl Nelson.

Nelson last year taught Hanor physics and this year is his counselor.

Another adult involved in the project was A. V. Loos, 1170 N. Beverly, Arlington Heights, who is employed by the Mystik Tape co. Loos' firm furnished Hanor with equipment for the project.

Hanor's experiment consisted of testing of a rubber solution with various metal compounds to determine which compound caused the greatest oxidation of the rubber.

THE YOUTH ADDED the compounds to the solution and took weekly measurements of its effect on the rubber. He wanted to learn what metals cause rubber to combine with oxygen most quickly.

Hanor hopes to pursue a career in geology after study at Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.

An all-round student, he is chief justice in the high school traffic court, manager of the varsity football and track teams and active in 4 science clubs.

The senior Hanor is an art director for a Chicago advertising firm. His mother was informed of the selection by telegram Tuesday and "Jeff" was called at school.

As in the past, winners were chosen on the basis of their showing in a difficult science aptitude test, teachers' evaluations of them, their scholastic records and their own science projects.

ENTRY MATERIALS were requested for a total of 20,145 students in public and private secondary schools in all 48 states and the District of Columbia. The 3,122 who completed all entrance requirements included 3,458 boys and 664 girls. That ratio, about 79 per cent boys and 21 per cent girls, determined the number of boy and girl winners picked.

During the institute a committee of judges will interview each of the 40 trip winners and choose the scholarship winners. The young scientists will conduct a science exhibition of their own projects, hear talks by outstanding adult scientists and visit many points of interest in the national capital.

Scholarship winners will be announced at the concluding banquet March 11.

All performances will be at Arlington Heights field house.

Why There Are Failures

This is success: To be able to carry money without spending it. To bear an injustice without retaliating. To do ones duty even when not watched. To keep at the job until it is finished. To make use of criticism without letting it whip you.

With The Blue Birds

Minnehaha Bluebirds

Last week's meeting was led by Mrs. Loughrin, as Mrs. Knutsen, leader was ill. Hostess, Jeanne Zizlavsky, served cookies she had made and the girls enjoyed a new game, "ditto," and discussed their puppets and the characters they could portray. The meeting closed with the friendship circle.

Forest View Bluebirds

Karen Anderson, president, conducted the business meeting after which Carol Currier, hostess for the day, served refreshments. An open discussion was held on traits which they would like to improve. Games and songs were sung before the closing of the meeting.

Blue Feather Bluebirds

The Blue Feathers met January 29 at the home of Cleta Herda, leader. June Schoepke was hostess for the day. Valentines were made by the girls to send to Suzie Shader, who has recently moved out of town. The meeting ended with the closing circle.

Merry Bluebirds

In the absence of the leader, Mrs. Roth, one of the mothers, Mrs. Russell, assisted Mrs. Ormsbee, co-leader, at the meeting. There was a discussion of the party to be given next week for prospective Bluebirds and the girls helped to make name tags for the occasion. Refreshments were served and the remainder of the time was spent singing and playing games.

Friendly Bluebirds

A new member was added to the group of Friendly Bluebirds, Patricia Kenny. The group also lost a member, Alice Shader, who has moved.

The girls have been busy making valentines. Last meeting was spent playing games and singing songs following the business meeting.

Blue Belles Bluebirds

The Blue Belles held their regular meeting January 29 with 11 members present. After the opening circle a business meeting was held. The girls learned a new song and worked on their valentines for their mothers' party.

Honey Bears Bluebirds

Shirley Quinn, a member of the Honey Bears, will take a part in "Mr. Poppers Penguins" to be presented next weekend. A discussion of the play and tickets were distributed to the girls who had bought them. Plans were made for a Valentine party to be held next week. They will make their own dessert for the party.

Mr. Berhop, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Traver will help several of the girls next Tuesday with the art of cooking. Carolyn Genevich was hostess for the day. (A

GEORGE HARRIS

Comes, pretty soon now, Valentine's Day, Yah? 'Tis a day that we can long remember if we get our best girl something that she will enjoy. Personally, I can't think of a better gift than some wonderful perfume.

There are so many lovely fragrances these days that it is sometimes hard to find just what you want. Why not let our trained personnel recommend the right fragrance that will best suit that particular person whom you want for your own Valentine. Possibly the most-called-for perfume today is ARPEGE by LANVIN. A subtle aroma, a wisp of heaven, would best describe this wonderful perfume. If you are in doubt about perfume, brother, this is it.

Say, incidentally, I'm cooperating with Rhodes, Inc. on a Special Valentine Day promotion. With the purchase of any Kelvinator Appliance you will receive a bottle of Arpege by Lanvin ABSOLUTELY FREE. Now is your chance to get acquainted with this heavenly fragrance for FREE and get that much needed appliance. Ask at Rhodes for the particulars. Happy Valentine's Day, all.

How to be a smart shopper

It starts with reading this Jewel Ad

. . . and adding these advertised specials to your shopping list right now. Maybe you don't need Chicken Soup . . . Applesauce . . . Pizza Mix, etc., right now — but what about next week? You may just suddenly be in the mood for making a pizza . . . or the children may want a bowl of chicken soup for lunch. Nice to just have to open the cupboard, isn't it? Helping you do this is one way Jewel ads serve you. And, of course, you're being smart because you bought when the items were specially priced.

"HOW TO BE A SMART SHOPPER and HOMEMAKER?" Read Jewel ads every week and you're on your way.

January 25 Pam Huntley, eldest of the Lyle E. Huntley's children, had a farewell party for Linda Golle. It was a buffet luncheon and came as a complete surprise to Linda. Twenty-five girls were there, many of them being Linda's schoolmates from high school. The Golles, who formerly lived at 1022 N. Patton, have been transferred to Lima, Ohio.

The Casey Gordons had as a weekend guest Mrs. Grace Trauger of Chicago. Mrs. Trauger and the Gordons were neighbors in Chicago before they moved here.

Parents Of A Son

Frank Graham is passing out cigars these days. His wife presented him with a baby boy January 30. David Richard was born in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, and weighed 7 pounds 1 ounce. He fits the bill perfectly, as they all wanted a boy, even his sisters, Rita and Donna.

Last weekend the George C. Beresheims had as their guests his father, George Beresheim Sr., and his son, Thomas, of Chicago, and her brother, Lon Bencini, and his family, all of Wheaton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Colvin have just spent a week at the Drake hotel where he was among the judges of the best pictures of the year sponsored by the National Press Photographer's association and the Encyclopedia Brittanica, with which he is affiliated. Saturday night the week was climaxed with the Press Photographers' ball at which Miss Photo flash of Chicago was chosen. Their guests at the ball were the Millard Borg Deutsches, the Geoffry Warners and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lone. The excitement of the evening was intensified by the excellent floor show, which included some of the best talent playing in and around Chicago. The Colvins were especially impressed with Nelson Eddy who brought with him part of his act at the Palmer house.

Plenty Of Activity

The G. S. Morgan's son, Wakefield, is home from Santa Ana college in California, where he has been studying for the last 1½ years. He was elected to the honor society there, Alpha Gamma Sigma, as well as being active in the first marine air wing, of which he was first lieutenant. Despite his fine record there, he has decided to transfer to Ohio State university, where he will specialize in nuclear physics. Wakefield's sister, Kathy, is home from Santa Ana college too, but for a different reason. She is to be married March 9 in the Presbyterian church here, and there are many things to be done before then. After her marriage, she and her husband will live in Denver and she plans to continue her studies at the university there. Chemistry is her specialization.

There was still another visitor from California at the Morgan's home Sunday. Tommy Kurisu flew here from Los Angeles, where he has been studying at the Los Angeles City college. There is a dual purpose in his coming here. Besides visiting his close friends, the Morgans, he is investigating the possibility of making a trip around the world in a schooner with several of his friends. Inasmuch as he is majoring in journalism in college, he, of course, will have good material for a book of their travels. Tommy is originally from Honolulu, Hawaii.

Jimmy Hahn's den will be meeting at his home this month. Each parent in his den will provide a meeting place and refreshments for a month. This is one of the best ways for parents to acquaint themselves with what their sons are doing in cub scouts.

Last Thursday Gloria Johnson's parents brought her out here to visit her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Erik Dedring. Gloria stayed until Sunday when her folks came back for her. Glenn Dedring was delighted to have his cousin here as they have always been good friends.

The Henry Inselbergers went to Schiller Park Saturday to a buffet supper at their daughter's house, Mrs. Matt Scherer. Also included in the party were Mr. Scherer's 2 sisters and his mother.

Friends and neighbors of Fred Wunder were saddened to learn of the stroke he had January 25. He was taken to the hospital in Elgin but died the following Monday morning, and was buried last Thursday in Chicago. Mr. Wunder was well liked and will be greatly missed in the community.

Organizing Seabee Island

Bernard J. Ladenthin Jr. is organizing a seabee island here in Arlington Heights called Island X-21. The first meeting was held in January at the village hall February 5 another meeting was held in his home at 941 N. Salem, primarily to attract those who are interested in locating other seabees in Arlington Heights. The next meeting will be held the third Wednesday in February at the village hall at 8 p.m. and anyone who has been in the seabees is eligible to come.

This group includes residents of Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect and Park Ridge. An island is equivalent to a post in the American Legion and since this is the newest island formed it is X-21, meaning there are 21 islands in Illinois. For further information, call Mr. Ladenthin at CL 3-8639.

Billy Logue, son of the William Logues, had his first birthday January 27 and his Grandma and Grandpa Kelly came from Lincolnwood to help him celebrate the day. His godfather, C. J. Logue, and his aunt Joyce also came to dinner. Later Mr. and Mrs. Ed Joyce and Cathy, Jennifer and Maureen came for coffee and cake. There were 2 cakes at Billy's party. One for the big folks and his own private cupcake with its own candle.

Home Between Semesters

Doug Mockenhaupt spent 10 days with his family, the Jerry Mockenhaupts, between semesters at the University of Illinois. Besides seeing the Illinois-Notre Dame game at the stadium, he caught up on his eating, sleeping and painting his parents bedroom.

The C. W. Burens have returned from a week's vacation that took them to Lookout mountain, Chattanooga, Tenn. Mrs. Buren said they skirted the flood area there, but that they did pass through some rain, which made them glad they were heading north.

Baby Shower

Mrs. Roy Martin gave a baby shower Friday night for Mrs. James Shield to which she invited several of her neighbors. The table was decorated in the traditional pink and blue and there were little bassinett candy cups at each place setting. Baby showers are fun for everyone, especially the guest of honor who is looking forward to her first born, as is Mrs. Shield.

Mrs. George Lurtz had a dessert lunch last Thursday to which she invited Grace Ekstrand, Eleanor Searfoss, Helen Rathsam, Espar Oja, Agnes Mowatt, Jean Kunberger, all of Arlington Heights, and Betty Wilbins of Palatine. After lunch they played bridge.

School Officials Attend Science Study Next Week

School Superintendents Ralph Clabaugh of Arlington Heights and Marion Jordan of Palatine will go to Atlantic City next week to participate in a national conference on Science Education in the school of America.

Jordan was asked by the National Science Teachers association and the American association of School Administrators to plan and preside at the meeting, one of a number of special interest discussions to be held February 18 at the National Convention of School Superintendents.

Clabaugh was invited to present important problems to the conference and to tell what is being done to keep science teaching up-to-date in Arlington Heights.

CONCERNED ABOUT the importance of science as one of the fundamentals of education, these men have obtained the services of the nation's foremost authorities on science education to assist them and to suggest better methods for coping with the problems.

The participants in this session are: Dr. John Richardson, professor of education, Ohio State University; Dr. James G. Harlow, associate professor of education, University of Chicago, and executive vice president of Frontiers of Science Foundation of Oklahoma; Dr. Kenneth E. Vordenberg, supervisor of science education for the Cincinnati public schools; L. P. Cushman, superintendent of schools, Oak Ridge, Tenn.; and J. Gordon Manzer, teacher, Trenton Central high school, Trenton, N.J.

Some alarming facts about enrollments in high school science tend to support the conclusion that nationwide we are remiss in in science education. Implications of science for good human relations, mental hygiene, national defense and scientific man power needs must be more widely understood. The complexities of improving science teaching at the secondary level and trends in the elementary schools for giving children satisfying achievements through science will be studied at the session. Science education for the gifted and science for better living on the part of all children will be discussed and particularly will questions be raised and suggestions made for dealing with wide felt fears of teachers and other adults relating to the study and teaching of science. . . . . with "Mr. Popper's Penguins." This 3-act children's play under the direction of Lu and Ed Staahl will be presented by Village Theatre at the Arlington Heights Fieldhouse, Miner and Douglas sts., on February 9, 10 and 17 at 2 and 4 p. m. Besides innumerable penguins, portrayed by children of various sizes and ages, there are 4 other children's roles—Bill and Jane; and Oscar and Roberta. These roles have been doubly cast with one group playing the Saturday performance while the other troup takes over on Sunday. Most of these children are second generation Village Theatre—sons and daughters of local Thespians.

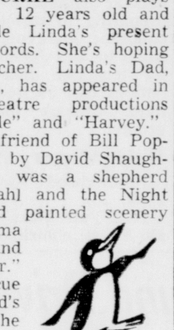
EDDY AND TEDDY STAAHL twin sons of directors Staahl double as Bill Popper in Saturday's show. Once before these 6th grade junior highers dualed in "The Boy who Discovered Easter." They appeared in Dicken's Christmas Carol which was given at the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged this past Christmas season and were shepherds in "Amahl and the Night Visitors." They worked on lights in "Hansel and Gretel" and helped paint scenery for "Sabrina Fair."

RICKEY HAWLEY (Bill Popper) another 6th grader is practically a veteran actor at age 11. He had a lead role in "Life With Father" played Amahl in "Amahl and the Night Visitors" and was the shepherd boy in this year's Christmas play. Rickey's parents, Bob and Kay Hawley will both be remembered for their many leading roles in Village Theatre and PTA shows. Besides acting Rickey also has musical talent; he can play just about anything on the piano by "ear." Rickey wants to be a banker like his Dad—"except not in the same bank."

KAREN MEYER (Jane Popper) a 13 year old 7th grader at Palatine's Oak St. school is preparing for a theatrical career. She is studing dramatics, ballet, voice and piano. She is a pupil of Mrs. Staahl and has appeared in many 1-act plays.

LINDA BURKE also plays Jane Popper. 12 years old and in 8th grade Linda's present hobby is records. She's hoping to be a teacher. Linda's Dad, Roger Burke, has appeared in Village Theatre productions "Silver Shistle" and "Harvey."

OSCAR a friend of Bill Popper is played by David Shaughnessy. Dave was a shepherd boy in "Amahl and the Night Visitors" and painted scenery for "Grandma Slyboots" and "Sabrina Fair." Taking a cue from his Dad's roles as the judge in "Dear Ruth" and a politician in "State of the Union" Davey is aspiring to be an attorney.



JONATHON WOODS (Oscar) will be remembered as the boy in "Random Target" talent bank play which has been presented for many local organizations. Jonathon has also appeared in plays at the Methodist church and was Santa Claus in this year's school play. Jonathon would like to be either a doctor or a newsreel photographer—but if he can't be either, he'll settle for acting.

CONNIE BECKWAY who appears as Roberta is another youngster with "star" dust in her eyes. She is preparing for a career in the theatre or as an entertainer. She is 1/3 of a trio (her sister Grayce and Roberta Hawley are the other 2/3rds) who have appeared in several TV shows and who have entertained many groups locally. If Connie can't make the grade theatrically, she'd like to be an artist.

MARILYN SMITH also appearing as Roberta isn't interested in the stage as a career. She likes bowling and horse back riding and her aspiration is to buy a farm with her girlfriend in Colorado. Marly's mother, Harriet Smith, who has been in many Village Theatre shows, takes the part of Mrs. Callahan in "Popper's Penguins."

DEMPSTER LEECH a 14-year old freshman at Arlington High takes the part of the Service Man. An amateur magician, Dempster, along with his mother and fatrer, has appeared on many PTA and Lion's Club programs in a magic and variety act. He has studied dramatics from Mrs. Staahl for the past 3 years.

Virginia Terrace News

Association News

At the winter general membership meeting of Virginia Terrace Improvement association it was announced that the social committee is planning an Easter activity for the children of the Terrace and that the social committee is compiling a master plan for social activities. This master plan will be submitted to the board of directors at their next meeting. Any resident who wishes to make suggestions as to type of activity he would like included is urged to contact his director or Ed Dillon, social chairman.

Wilson Cub Scout pack 234 will have a booth featuring display of handicraft at the Scout-o-Rama to be held this Saturday at the Junior high school.

Spirit of Thoughtfulness

Once again the spirit of thoughtfulness for one's neighbors prevailed in the Terrace as neighbors of Max O'Brien, 1405 N. Race, presented him with a portable radio. Max underwent serious heart surgery January 24 in Presbyterian hospital, Chicago, and will be confined to the hospital for 2 or 3 more weeks before he will be able to return home for a long convalescence. Flossie, Max's wife, said that visitors are not only permitted, but encouraged, as it is felt they will be a helpful factor in his convalescence. Max and Flossie have 2 children, Dennis and Donna, who are students at St. James school.

Gianna and Gordon Riefstahl held open house for 5 guests in order that their friends could meet Gianna's mother, Mrs. Maria Zotti, who is here from Milan, Italy. Among those invited from the Terrace were the Bill Cotsakis, the Joe Clevens, the Chuck Catlins, the "Eric" Ericksons, the Ron Francises, the Link Dowells, the Bob Horters, the Ed Hoovers, the Jim Howards, the Elm Lechelts, the Vernon Hackers, the John Norembergs, the Alan Jeffreys, the Dominic Massas, the Al Perrys, the Herb Trowes, the Ken Vandervoorts, the John Wilmots, Mrs. Wind, the David Yates and the Jack Griffiths.

Mary Massa, 1710 Olive, gave a luncheon for Gianna and her mother, Mrs. Zotti, this past week.

Anniversary Party

Claire Dever had a surprise in store for her Friday when she returned home from dinner at Martinetti's with her husband, Bob, and found that Bob had planned an additional celebration for their 22nd wedding anniversary, in the form of a party. The guests who called "surprise" were George and Dorothy Murray, Arnold and Doris Silver, Sully and Doris Sullivan, John and Ida Kindler, Jerry Centoni, Al Volz, Pearl and Gordon Wienke and Jack and Nancy Griffith.

Cathy Gunnison gave a "coffee and" party for 2 of her new neighbors, Marie Loughman of the Terrace and "Oak" Kuhnheim of Sherwood, to which Mary Klint, Jane Lennon, Evie Nightengale, Eleanor Altman, Betty Forsberg and Dorothy Faust were invited.

Mary and Bud Klint had as their house guests Bill and Gerry Ladney and their daughters, Judy and Kathy Lynn, who were here for 4 days on their way to Florida, where the Ladneys will make their permanent home. The Ladneys moved from Virginia Terrace last summer.

Betty and George Frisbie have rented their home on Yale and moved to Milwaukee.

Infant Son Baptized

Mark Robert, month-old son of Joyce and Robert Anderson, was baptized February 3 by the Rev. John Lane in St. James Catholic church. Guests at a dinner given after the service were the baby's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Foellmer, and their daughter, Sandy, Mark's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Streich of Mt. Prospect, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Eric Anderson of Schiller Park, Miss Gail Streich, Richard Fischer, and his great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Streich and L. Holdynski.

Here visiting Doris and Ken Koser, 1327 N. Illinois, are Mrs. J. C. Durham, with Ann and Sara Durham of Galatia, Ill., mother and sisters of Doris, and also Doris' aunt, Mrs. Henry Devar of Harrisburg, Ill.

Marge Chupich, 1316 Yale, and Charlene Bang, 1315 N. Illinois, are members of the decorations committee for the Newcomers' club dance to be held February 16 at Hartmann House in Wheeling. In that capacity they have been busy attending meetings to make decorations for the dance in the Valentine motif. Charlene is also serving as ticket chairman for the dance, which is to be called "Cupid's Capers." (A

Music-On Stage Operetta Backed By Stage Knowhow

by MARGUERITE DIETRICH

Music-on- Stage chose Roy Kane to direct its first production, "Pirates of Penzance."

This operetta, one of the best-loved of Gilbert and Sullivan, will be performed by the new musical group the evening of February 23 and evening of the following day, and afternoon and evenings of the followin gday, Sunday.

The new Little Theatre of Arlington high school was also selected by Music-on-Stage as the auditorium in which to present their initial venture. It seats about 350, has sloping floor and upholstered seats, so that everyone in the audience should be able to see and hear clearly and be completely comfortable.

Stage facilities, lighting, dressing and make up rooms should enable singers in the "Pirates" to give a top performance.

ORCHESTRAL ACCOMPANIMENT will be provided and Phyllis Wilson, assistant musical director of the show, plays the piano part.

Kane and Mrs. Wilson assisted in the same capacities for 1954 production of "Pinafore," first of 3 annual Prospect Heights Community benefits. Mrs. Wilson also worked with that group the other 2 years.

Kane's career includes directing, producing and acting and singing in his own right. He is now manager of the Al Dvorin agency and has an office in Chicago as theatrical agent and producer.

He is one of the partners in the musical comedy team of John and Kane, known professionally as the "Sweethearts of Song." Miss Lois John and Kane have been singing together since 1949, for conventions, woman's clubs, supper clubs.

IN 1949 HE produced his original musical comedy score, "Melody Queen." In following years he produced Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore," Jerome Kern's "Showboat," a musical version of Dicken's "Christmas Carol," and another of his own original revues, "Crazy House."

Kane is also director at First Congregational church, Lombard. He is a graduate of Cosmopolitan School of Music.

Music-on-Stage also benefits greatly by the musical experience and training of Mrs. Wilson. Now music director at Warrenville school, she had that same position at Prospect Heights grade school, Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Wilson, Elk Grove and Maywood. She has given private instruction in piano, voice and band instruments.

SHE STUDIED at Northwestern university, Ellsworth College Conservatory of Music and Drake University School of Music.

The Prospect Heights Choral society was one of the groups she has served as director and she has directed church choirs, served as organist, directed and played in professional production, stock and road shows.

Tickets are now available for "Pirates of Penzance" and may be obtained through Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Collins, Cl. 3-6828 or any member of the group.

Family Forced To Adjust To Houseful Of Penguins

How would you adjust your family routine if your house was suddenly invaded by a horde of penguins?

Where would you put them? How would you feed them?

THESE ARE all dilemmas which face the redoutable Mr. and Mrs. Popper, featured characters in Village Theatre's dramtized version of the popular children's book, "Mr. Pepper's Penguins." The play will be presented February 9, 10 and 17 at Arlington field house.

The play takes place in the city of Stillwater. Mr. Popper, an eccentric housepainter, is interested in the South Pole and makes frequent contact by short wave radio with Admiral Drake, an explorer. Because of Popper's interest, the admiral sends the couple a penguin which they name Capt. Cook.

CAPT. COOK presents a number of problems for the Poppers. Since he seems to like the ice box, they turn it over to him, placing a handle on the inside and boring air holes.

But despite their attentions, Capt. Cook becomes ill and won't eat. He revives, however, when a zoo in a nearby city sends the Poppers their penguiin, Greta. Soon Greta and Capt. Cook lay an egg and out from the ice box pop 8 baby penguins.

IN ORDER to accommodate the family, Mr. and Mrs. Popper transform their basement into a South Pole with icebergs and a swimming pool. They train the penguins to do stunts and play games.

The penguins eat only shrimp, however, and soon the Poppers are nearly bankrupt from the cost. The finance company hauls away their furniture. They seemed faced with ruin.

Patrons of Village Theatre will see how the Poppers resolve this dilemma when they attend "Penguins." (AM

Arlington Greens

Final arrangements have been made by the Greens entertainment committee for the 'Sweetheart Night' theatre trip to see the play 'No Time for Sargeants' at the Erlanger theatre. Jack O'Neil, 908 Oakton, is in charge of the affair which will take place Thursday, Feb. 14. Twenty-two couples will meet at Old Orchard country club and board the bus at 7 for the trip to the loop. The bus will carry the play-goers back to the country club for refreshments to close the evening.

A rosary was found on the corners of Dryden and Oakton. Owner may have same by calling CL 5-0406.

Birthdays

The Gerrard twins, Bonnie and Heather, 1165 Hickory, celebrated their fifth birthdays January 29 with a party featuring games, ice cream and cake. Enjoying themselves were Glen Shannon, Rickey Marshall, Debbie Coughlin, Joyce Gran, Crissie and Karin Johnson, Donna Zaborowski and Patti Sue Zenner. The twins are having loads of fun with the phonograph given to them by their parents.

Gary Peterson, 701 Olive, was 6 February 4 and had a birthday party Saturday, Feb. 2. The decorations followed the Valentine theme and the guests made valentines to take home to their mothers. Guests were Laura Kaye, Stephen Lynch, Toby and Cindy Lees, Bill Sherden, Danny Kerz and his 5-month-old sister, Nancy, who enjoyed a teething biscuit while the others had ice cream and cake. Richard Johnson was unable to attend. Gary's grandma Dutton had a party for him Sunday in Chicago, which included numerous relatives.

Cindy Lees, 609 Olive, had a luncheon party January 26 for her seventh birthday. The hit of the day was making a recording of their voices by the guests. Included were Barbara Nelson, Susan Johnson, Janis Kerz, Laura Kaye and Marrilee Benson. Cindy's sister, Geraldine, will be 2 on Thursday, February 7.

Newcomer

A baby boy weighing 6½ pounds was born to Peggy and Harris Rush, 1184 Beverly, Monday, Feb. 4, in Resurrection hospital. David William has a brother, Allen, 5, and a sister, Wendy, 2. Harris is in charge of things in Peggy's absence and will be glad to see her come home this Sunday.

A miscellaneous baby shower was given by Evelyn Sage and Peggy Ponter at Sage's, 700 Oakton, Friday. Guest of honor was Beth Shanahan, who was feted by Bea Dombrow, Jean O'Sullivan, Ceil Mensch, Delores Haldeman, Jean List, Lorraine Zimmer, Isobel Fisher, Arlene Brown, Ginny Hartley, Peg Lasher and Jane Bee. The gifts were stacked in a bassinet decorated in pink and blue and a stork perched on the table where a late supper was served.

Meeting

Card playing will follow the short monthly meeting of the Greens association to be held Thursday, Feb. 7, at 8 in VFW hall, Yale and Northwest hwy. (A

After losing to Carlisle, he transferred to the trustee race.

Whittier finished last in the first 3 votes and withdrew before the fourth vote.

MRS. PEARSON, a widow with children in high school and college, handily defeated her 31 year old rival for clerk, 133 to 87. He was Richard K. Stevens, 736 N. Kennicott, an industrial relations manager who has lived here 16 months.

The field of 8 in the trustee race consisted of the 3 winners, Bishop and Whittier, and losers Joseph A. Orgler, 733 N. Beverly; George M. Rudolphy, 1507 W. St. James, a 1956 vice president of the Westgate Community association, and Jack W. Searfoss, 1206 W. Elm.

Here is how the voting for trustee candidates went:

On the first ballot 235 voted. Results: Bukowski, 100; Kurtz and Prunty, 99 each; Bishop, 95; Searfoss, 87; Rudolphy, 74; Orgler, 65 and Whittier 41. None earned the necessary majority of votes.

Bukowski and Prunty got 137 and 108 votes respectively, more than a majority of the 209 votes cast while the totals of all others but Bishop and Kurtz dropped off sharply. The number of votes eased with each ballot as some persons left the hall. After the vote Searfoss withdrew in favor of Kurtz.

On the third ballot Kurtz got 92 votes, only 2 short of the number required for election. Exactly 187 marked ballots. Bishop trailed with 64.

After a procedural hassle and Bishop's attempted withdrawal, a weary 138 persons remained to vote, handing Kurtz a victory with its 84 votes, compared to Bishop's 49.

IN A LATE-EVENING speech Carlisle commented that he had not accepted a place on the ticket until floor nominations were completed, lest he should be forced to campaign with unacceptable running mates.

Carlisle promised "to do all I can to carry out the things I believe in." He welcomed suggestions and thanked the Caucus for slating him.

John Randag, chairman of the candidate selection committee, said his group took up its task "with an open mind" and a "concern for good government."

"You may feel that all on the recommended list are commuters," noted Randag. "I think that's true. But we asked many businessmen to come forward and none did."

Most of the would-be candidates touched only briefly on the issues of the coming campaign.

To Carlisle, "water and sewer problems" and the task of mapping out facilities to handle future growth were paramount. Whittier called for "a more progressive type of government" while Kurtz added zoning and more parking facilities to Carlisle's list.

Several speakers and spectators commended the audience for the large turnout, generally agreeing it was the largest meeting of its kind in recent years. (AF

Heart Fund Drive Opens With Goal Of $910,000

The 1957 Heart Fund drive of the Chicago Heart association, with a goal of $910,000, was off to a flying start at its kick-off luncheon Thursday.

At the affair, S. DeWitt Clough, managing director, presented Laurance H. Armour Jr., general campaign chairman, with a check for $212,77.

THE AMOUNT represented contributions made to date to the current drive.

In explaining the program of the association and explaining use of donations, Armour noted the organization is the only voluntary health agency in the Chicago area devoted exclusively to combating diseases of the heart and circulation. Its program of research, education and heart service is supported entirely by contributions from the public.

THREE-FOURTHS of the donations from the Chicago area remain here to support the local program. The rest goes to advance nationwide research, education and community service programs of the American Heart association, of which Chicago is an affiliate. More than $1.5 million has been channeled into local research during the past 7 years.

On Heart Sunday, Feb. 24, 52,000 volunteers will ring doorbells between 1 and 4 p.m. in an effort to raise $500,000. (B7

Knoeppel Leads Efforts For UI Suburb Campus

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, formerly superintendent of Arlington high school now at Proviso, is chairman of a committee of West suburbanites which is still fighting to locate a branch of the University of Illinois at Miller Meadow.

The university said last week it had dropped plans to introduce legislation to secure the site for a campus in the face of opposition from officials of the county forest preserve district, owners of the meadow in Proviso township.

HOWEVER, Knoeppel's group will continue its effort to show the university that residents, business and industry in the area are highly favorable toward establishment of the branch there. A special effort has been made to encourage persons to write to legislators and to the forest preserve district to ask their cooperation in helping to obtain the site for a university.

It is estimated that more than 1,700 petitions are in the hands of persons who will seek 85,000 signatures. Petition and fact sheets may be obtained from the Maywood chamber of commerce or Supt. Knoeppel, Proviso Township high school, First ave. and Madison, Maywood. (B7

Lions Roar For Safety

Believing that "a picture is worth a thousand words" the safety committee of the Arlington Heights Lions club has placed at prominent places throughout the village colorful posters which emphasize safe driving.

Stop and look them over carefully; a realization of their portrayed meaning may save you dollars and insure your continued good health.

MANY PUBLIC and private agencies of Arlington Heights work together to make possible the basic requirements of good streets, plain street markings and mechanical perfection of your car for your safe motoring.

These are rendered ineffective by those with poor safety attitudes. Pause, look and reflect; because the "Lions Roar," you may laugh instead of cry. (A

Seek 2 Youths

Two 16-year-old youths who left their homes in Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows in a car owned by one of the boys were still being sought by police of several states this week.

The parents of the Arlington Heights boy told police he left home early Friday morning, after withdrawing $75 from a savings account. Police said the boys were both students at Arlington high school. (A

Modern Etiquette

Q. Should the announcement of an engagement be made very promptly?

A. Yes. This may be done by sending a notice to the newspapers, or by issuing engraved announcements to friends and relatives, or by means of an announcement party for the close friends and relatives.

Q. What are the most popular ways of introducing a man and woman?

A. Either, "Miss Lake, may I present Mr. Ford?" or, "Miss Lake, Mr. Ford." Observe that in both forms the woman's name is mentioned first.

Q. What is a good point to remember when planning the centerpiece of the dinner table?

A. That tall ornaments which obstruct the view are not in good taste, as the guests naturally like to see each other across the table. It is far better to have a simple, flat bowl of flowers or fruit, flanked perhaps by a pair of candlesticks.

Q. Is it really considered good form to extend any and all kinds of invitations over the telephone?

A. One may use the telephone for almost any kind of invitation, with the exception of formal ones.

Q. Is it proper for the mother of a newborn baby to mail a printed card of thanks for a gift sent?

A. No; the mother's thanks should be expressed in a sincere, personally-written note.

Q. Where do I put my olives and radishes served at a formal dinner, when there is no bread-and-butter plate?

A. Place them on the edge of the plate from which you are eating. Salt for the radishes goes there, too. (G

Newly elected officers will be on hand with their plans for the coming year, so residents are reminded to remember the date and attend. Residents of Westgate 2 are invited to attend these monthly meetings.

Mostly Dogs

Loose dogs seem to again be the main concern in Westgate. Calls come almost daily about the same dogs constantly running loose. Arlington village laws forbid dogs to be off the leash at anv time and there is a fine for this offense. It has been suggested before to call the village police and report dogs running loose or causing a disturbance. The owner may be annoyed at the fine in retrieving his dog, but it should put a stop to this problem. (A

Baptist Church To Show Luther Film

"Martin Luther," the widely acclaimed feature-length motion picture which deals with the 16th century Reformation leader will be shown at the First Baptist Church of Arlington Heights at 7 p.m., February 10, it has been announced by the Rev. George I. Beckstrom.

The film is the same 1-hour 45-minute motion picture shown in theatres throughout the country for 2 years. It has recently become the center of a controversy beginning in the Chicago area and now extending to the proportions of a national issue on religious tolerance and democratic freedom.

"While asserting that there were New Testament churches functioning prior to and during the time of the Reformation, and outside the Roman Catholic church, and that these churches have existed since the time of Christ with their only doctrine being the Scriptures, and that we are historically one of these," said Rev. Beckstrom, "we do however want to join with other churches in offering this film as widely as possible so that all of us may better understand the issues and history of the Reformation and demonstrate protest against biased attitudes."

Admission is open to all. (A

Show Italy Travel Film

"Italy," Kenneth Richter's color film and lecture, will be the travel and adventure subject at Arlington High School at 8 p.m. Tuesday, in the boys gym.

To Richter it is the people and their lives which make a country interesting — their history, art, culture, industries. He starts his story of Italy with the Rome of the Caesars and takes the audience through the ruins of the classical age, the forums, Colosseum, Roman Baths and tombs, the ancient cities of Pompeii and Herculanaeum. Then he turns to the Rome of St. Peter's and the Popes, to Florence of the Renaissance and the art galleries.

THIS HISTORICAL sequence is a brilliant background to the documentary report on Italy as it is today: the silver, jewelry and leather industry of Florence, and the Fiat plant at Torino. One of the scenes is of the modern painter, DeChirico, at work in his studio. (ACM

Former Slave To Mark 113th Birthday Sunday

Sally Powell will be 113 years old Sunday.

It is hoped this now blind, former slave, a patient at Oak Forest institution, Cook county's general hospital for the chronically ill, will be able to shed some light on the Lincoln era as she becomes more adjusted to a recently donated hearing aide.

SALLY VISITS patients in surrounding wards daily in her wheel chair and maintains "I could walk if you'd give me a stick." This is not permitted by Oak Forest medical staff, guarding against accident. However, Sally has gotten quite a bit of enjoyment with her hearing aide; now she can hear the choir at chapel services.

Under Oak Forest care, Sally has responded to treatment for malnutrition and debility, her condition upon admission 6 years ago. Today Sally boasts a healthy appetite and cheerful disposition, which makes her the pet of the ward. She is sufficiently strong to plait, as she calls braiding her hair, and always asks to wash herself.

SALLY'S AGE was authenticated by a family Bible which lists her 7 children, all of which are dead but not forgotten by Sally, who with remarkable clarity recalls for whom each was named. Sally refers to the Kaiser's War frequently in connection with conversation about her children.

Oak Forest Administrator of Medical Social Service Viola Ward, in collecting Sally's recollections, does not dismiss her conversation entirely as idle chatter. Miss Ward says "Sally's contact with her surroundings is considered remarkably realistic."

The Oak Forest staff hopes that Sally will someday recall some heretofore unknown facts about Lincoln's day, as she lived it on a plantation in Alabama. (AM

County Zone Amendments Get Hearing February 15

A public hearing on proposed amendments to the county zoning ordinance will be held at 9 a.m. February 15 in room 535, County building, Clark and Randolph sts., Chicago.

The amendments to be considered provide that certain kinds of business may be located only after public hearing on each application. These include trailer camps, drive-in theatres, junk yards and garbage dumps.

Changes were recommended by Harry F. Chaddick, who has been retained to revise the zoning ordinance, as a stop-gap measure while the work of revision is proceeding.

CHADDICK'S REPORT proposes a new classification titled "R-5" (residence-multi-family)." These provide for 2 family and multi-family dwellings, each on a lot not less than 60 feet average width and 2,500 sq. ft. of lot area per living unit. Multiple dwellings now are included in B-1 business areas only.

The proposal also adds a section dealing with special uses. It says the special uses may be granted by the county board if the application:

1. Is necessary for the public convenience at that location.

2. Is so designed and located that the public health, safety and welfare will be protected.

3. Will not cause a substantial drop in value of adjoining property.

4. Conforms to the applicable regulations of the district where the improvement will be located.

HERE IS what may be constructed where under the amendments:

— Cemeteries, institutions for the insane, feeble minded, aged, and children. Penal and correctional institutions: farming.

— Radio and TV towers exceeding 25 feet: farming, business zone, business, tavern and amusement zone, light industrial zone and heavy industrial zone.

— Stadiums, race tracks, fair grounds, etc.: farming, business zone, business, tavern and amusement zone.

— Top soil clay and gravel removal: farming, light industrial zone and heavy industrial zone.

— Glue factories, tanneries, oil refineries and any uses which highly pollute the air with ill-smelling or noxious wastes: unrestricted industrial.

Award $1.5 Million High School Bonds To Nuveen

In 20 minutes of a special meeting last week the Arlington high school board of education heard bids on a $1.5 million bond isue, compared offers and awarded the issue to the low bidder.

The issue was won by a Chicago bonding house syndicate headed by John Nuveen & Co., 135 S. LaSalle, which submitted a rate of 3.555 per cent for the entire issue.

High school business manager John Schaaf commented that the bid was considerably under both the bids of other firms and the anticipated rate. Proceeds of the sale will finance further construction on Prospect high school.

IN A REFERENDUM a month ago voters gave the board of education permission to sell the bond issue at a higher rate than the 3.50 per cent figure authorized by the original bond election. Voters approved a $3.5 million bond issue about a year and a half ago, of which $2 million were sold at the time.

William G. Inman of Arlington Heights represented the successful bidder. B7(

Hanover Township To Vote On Sanitary District?

..Hanover Township to Vote 2 tem

A petition to disconnect the territory of Hanover township from the Chicago Sanitary District has been filed in County court.

The petition was signed by 412 persons with Bartlett and Elgin mailing addresses. Their attorneys, the firm of Gromer and Abbott, of Elgin, say this is 10 per cent or more of the legal voters in the Cook county township.

THE PETITION says no bonded indebtedness was incurred while Hanover was part of the Chicago Sanitary District. Also, the territory is not served by any works or improvements of the sanitary district, according to the petition.

It asked the county court to set a hearing date for fixing the limits and boundaries of the territory to be disconnected. The request provides for the amending of the petition to exclude any sections having objectors.

THE PETITION asked for a v to be held on the disconn ion proposal within 60 days after the court signs an order.

The first name heading the signatures on the petition was Walte H. Meyer, 228 Main street, Bartlett. The last to sign was Robert F. Feeny, 120 S. Oak st., Bartlett. (B7

Announce Dates Trotter-College Cage Series

Basketball's greatest spectacle, the annual coast-to-coast "World Series" between the fabulous Harlem Globetrotters and the College All-Americans, will get underway Sunday, March 31, it was announced here today.

This eighth annual post-season classic will open with a matinee in New York's Madison Square Garden and will close in Cincinnati on April 18. The two teams will play a total of 19 games in 19 cities. The game in Chicago, at the Stadium, will be played Monday night, April 1.

One of the greatest drawing cards in the history of American sports, this annual event has broken box-office records in practically every city in which the two teams have appeared during the previous seven tours. During that time, playing a total of 141 games, the Trotters and the collegians have drawn 1,668,412 fans.

COMPETITIVELY, Abe Saperstein's court magicians have won each of the previously played classics. Last year the Trotters had their closest call, winning 11 of the 21 games played. Previously, starting with the inaugural in 1950, they had won by margins of 11-7, 14-4, 11-5, 14-7, 15-7 and 14-10.

This year four new cities have been added to the World Series schedule. First-time games will be played in Omaha, Neb.; Eugene, Ore.; Evansville, Ind. and Seattle, Wash. The two teams will be invading the Northwest for the first time.

The College All-American squad will not be announced until mid-March, at the termination of the intercollegiate season. (Sp competition....

*...."THE effort of two or more parties, acting inpendently, to secure the favor of a third party by offering more favorable terms." Well, Mr. Webster has hit it right on the head again. There just isn't any better way of describing HEART OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS competition than this.

It's another of the exclusive pluses we are offering every day of the week to shoppers of this area. When two or more merchants are offering the same kinds of merchandise in the same shopping area, that's competition. And when there's competition, WE have to stay on our toes to "win the favor of the third party" (that's YOU!).

Every shopper wants to make his dollar go as far as possible - - work as hard for him as he can make it. And you don't have to drive 30 miles to find the kind of competition that really puts that dollar bill to work bringing you the values you have a right to demand. Pocket that travel money and take advantage of competition, Arlington Heights style, right here in the...

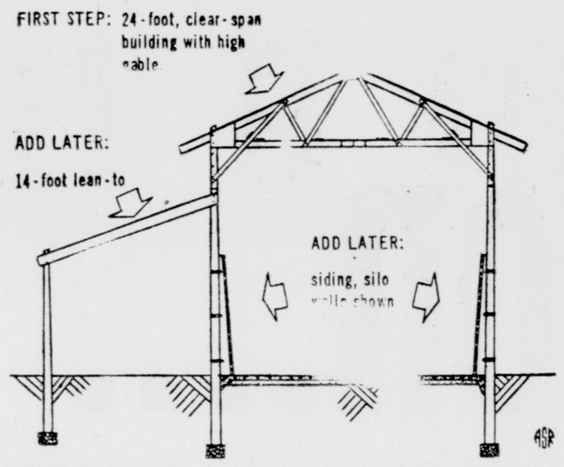
A Pole-Type Barn on 'Installments'



Build the basic unit on poles treated with penta, then expand it or add to it whenever the time, labor or money is at hand. Use each "installment" as it is built.

Newest idea in farm buildings since the introduction of pole-type construction is the erection of these pole-type structures in "installments" through the use of standard parts and details.

Many different building sizes and shapes are possible in this "multicombination" construction, introduced recently by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Oregon State College, Corvallis, Ore. More important, however, is the fact that any of the buildings can be:

1. expanded as the need arises.
2. built when the labor is at hand.
3. budgeted and built in "easy stages".
4. used while you wait to expand it or add to it.

Details of the "installment" construction of the pole-type buildings are described by Leroy Bonnicksen, assistant agriculture engineer of the college, in Station Bulletin 557.

Specifications call for poles with a minimum top diameter of five inches, treated against termites and decay. Splatter boards and other wood in contact with the soil should be treated with a preservative such as penta. In fact, the bulletin states: "It is cheaper to use treated lumber (which has a higher first cost but longer life) than untreated lumber."

New Cash Rent Lease Form Available, Reports Mees

A new cash rent lease form is now available, reports Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser.

Developed at the University of Illinois, this new lease carries several new features of interest to landowners and tenants. Suggestions for completing and using the Illinois cash farm lease are included with each copy of the lease form.

With this new lease form, it is possible to choose a flat rental rate per acre or a stated amount of crop or l[illegible] products.

FOR EX[illegible]E ON grain farms, the annual cash rent might be $25 an acre. But if the owner and tenant agreed, they might draw up the lease to provide for a rent of 20 bushels of corn an acre. If they did so, they would also state the market and time for determining a price to convert the rent to a cash figure. For example, they might agree to use the highest price at the local elevator during May.

In dairy areas of northern Illinois, where cash leases are often used, the rent might be 400 pounds of milk an acre. The price might be the blend price on the Chicago market for November.

OTHER FEATURES OF the new lease include an amendment providing a refund to the tenant if he makes improvements at his own expense and moves before they fully depreciate; putting into writing such definite management and business procedures as cropping plans, reimbursements to the tenant for his cost in lime, phosphate and potash that are unused when the lease is terminated; and a disaster clause for use in case crop yields should drop more than 50 per cent below the county average.

A cash lease may be more satisfactory to some owners and tenants than to others. F. J. Reiss, who developed the new cash lease, lists some of these situations:

THE OWNER MAY wish to get on a retired status with respect to social security benefits. An owner who is completely dependent upon the farm for income for living expenses may like the regular and dependable cash rental payments.

An absentee owner who cannot give the supervision needed at harvesting and marketing times may find a cash lease a good alternative. A tenant renting from a disinterested owner may find this type of lease to his advantage in solving soil fertility problems. (Fm

Insect Treatment Gives $7 Million Farmer Profit

Treatment of insect pests in field crops gave Illinois farmers a profit of $7 million above cost of treatment in 1956.

This estimate was given by H. B. Petty, extension entomologist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture and State Natural History survey, during the ninth custom spray operators' school yesterday and today on the University campus.

PETTY ESTIMATES that about 1.4 million acres of field crops were treated with insecticides during 1956. His estimates are based on results of a survey of all Illinois counties. Insects included in the survey were corn borer, grasshopper, cutworm, chinchbug, soil insects, pea aphid, sweet clover weevil, spotted alfalfa aphid, leafhopper and spittlebug.

The largest number of acres—about 665,000—was treated for corn borer, and the estimated profit was $3.9 million. Next highest was for soil insects with 370,000 acres treated and an estimated profit of $1.6 million.

ABOUT HALF OF all acreage was treated by individual farmers. About one-fourth was treated by commercial ground applicators, and the other fourth by airplane spraying.

Petty points out that these figures include only a few of the major insects found in field crops. There are other insects in field crops that are being controlled with insecticides. Also, treatment of fruit and vegetable crops was not considered in this survey.

Prize Money In Barrow Show

Prize money totaling nearly $6,000 will be awarded to participants in the Chicago Barrow Show, February 21 and 22, at the Chicago Stock Yards. Entry blanks and premium lists may be obtained by writing: Chicago Barrow Show, Room 116 Exchange Bldg., Union Stock Yards, Chicago 9, Illinois.

The 4 classifications open to competition include the Junior Division, Open Classes for individual barrows, Trucklots, and the Carcass Contest. Fm

Law On The Farm

Tenants of business property, employers and corporations are unpaid tax informants for the Treasury department. They are required to inform the government concerning amounts they pay to other persons that are likely to be taxable income. Willful failure to file is a criminal offnse.

The magic figure for individuals is $600. If $600 or more is paid to another as business rent or for services, an information return is due by February 28. and rent must be included if payment was made in the course of a trade of business (farming included). For example, compensation of $2,000 to a farm hand for the calendar year would need to be reported. Also, payment of a $650 fee to an attorney, an accountant or other professional person for services to your business would have to be reported.

ORDINARILY the tax law states that payment in goods or services constitutes income, and reports must be made in the same way as if cash were used. But this principle does not apply to a farm tenant who pays rent in crop shares. That is, the tenant need not make an information return on crop rent.

This position seems logical because neither the amount nor value of the landlord's share may be readily ascertainable. Sometimes the tenant's and landlord's shares are restored jointly and title may remain with the tenant. Even if not jointly stored, there is a question of what market price to use and at what time. Also, the landlord does not report the crop share as income until it is converted to cash.

If the farm rent is paid in cash, and it is over $600 for the year, an information return is required.

AS TO AGRICULTURAL corporations, they are required to file an information return when they pay out $100 or more as dividends or patronage refunds. Included are farm and production loan associations and farmer cooperatives.

When a return is required, a separate Form 1099 is used for each payee. It must be transmitted with Form 1096 on or before February 28 of the following year. Tax-exempt organizations are not relieved of filing these forms. (Fm

It Pays To Repaint Farm Machinery, Says Specialist

Repainting farm machinery may seem like "frosting on the cake."

But unpainted machines can rust and go to pieces rapidly, says J. W. Matthews, assistant professor of farm shop at the University of Illinois college of agriculture. This is particularly true of sheet metal and other thin metal parts.

MATTHEWS POINTS out that winter is a good time for repairing and repainting farm machinery if you have a heated shop on your farm.

You can clean all the grease, dirt and loose rust off your machines to get them ready for a repaint job when you check for needed repairs and adjustments. Use a putty knife and wire brush to get as much of the grime off dry as you can, or use a wire scratch wheel in an electric drill or flexible shaft unit.

Never use gasoline to clean grease and oil off machinery, Matthews says. Fire is too much of a hazard. Instead, get a special cleaning solvent from your tank truck driver that is safe to use. Use it later to clean your paint brushes.

A WORTH-WHILE paint job needs 2 coats and 2 different kinds of paint. After you have thoroughly cleaned the machine and the solvent is dry, put on a coat of a good metal primer to cover all bare metal. Metallic zinc or red lead based paints are good.

Then finish the job with a coat of the manufacturer's implement enamel that you can get from your dealer. He can also furnish decals that will give a professional look to your finished job. (Fm

Cook Farmers May Sign Up Now For Acreage Reserve

Sign-up for the 1957 corn Acreage Reserve program began February 1 at the Cook county ASC office in Arlington Heights, Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the local ASC committee, announced this week.

Under the acreage reserve phase of the Soil Bank program, payment will be made to farmers for reducing the 1957 corn acreage below the farm allotment.

A specific acreage equal to the reduction from the allotment must be designated and set aside from production in 1957.

CORN producers were recently advised of the per acre payment rate established for their farm under the Acreage Reserve program.

Bormet also stated that this year the program is being operated under a definite allocation of funds and consideration will be given to farmers desiring to execute agreements on a first-come-first-served basis. Taking part in the acreage reserve program is entirely voluntary.

PRODUCERS on farms for which an "old farm" corn acreage allotment has been established are eligible to participate.

The maximum acreage which may be placed in the reserve at this time is 20 acres or 30 per cent of the allotment, whichever is the larger.

If the farmer is interested in placing a larger acreage in the reserve, he should indicate this on the original agreement. The additional acreage will be accepted and a new agreement signed if funds are available after the program sign-up has closed. In no case, however, may an acreage in excess of the farm allotment be placed in the reserve.

IN ADDITION to making a reduction in their corn allotment farmers much comply with all farm allotments and must not harvest or graze the land designated as the reserve.

Personnel will be available in the county office to fully explain details of the program or to assist farmers in signing agreements. The deadline for signing a corn Acreage Reserve agreement under the 1957 program is March 8, 1957. (m

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser CARL F. MEES

The attendance at Farm and Home week at the University of Illinois was down some from last year. The principal reason probably was due to the weather. Highways from Kankakee south were covered with a sheet of ice making driving extremely slow and hazardous. However, the program during the 4 day period was quite outstanding as usual.

Briefly some of the things we heard at Farm and Home Week were:

PRODUCTION OF eggs, broil- and turkeys is likely to exceed the records set in 1956.

An increased supply of eggs and decreased demands at least for storage during the first half of the year will probably cause egg prices to remain lower than they were the first half of last year says J. R. Roush, University of Illinois poultry marketing specialist.

THE CORN PROBLEM is getting worse faster this year than in other years of increasing stocks. Production exceeds use. The lower corn support rate is one of the most encouraging longer range factors now in the market picture, says T. A. Hieronymus, University of Illinois grain marketing specialists.

Full-time dairy farm operators in Northern Illinois average 61 hours of farm work a week.

Unlike their city neighbors, farmers don't work the same number of hours each week the year around.

DAIRY FARMERS' work week ranged from a low of 53 hours in January-February to 70 hours in April and early May.

Hog farmers in the same area work about 42 hours a week. Analysis of the work records showed that hog farmers averaged a 30-hour week in January and a 60 hour week in April and May.

The above facts were presented by R. A. Hinton, University of Illinois agricultural economists.

FARMERS ARE paying some "handsome randoms" for farm land to avoid the penalties of operating undersized farms.

This is now C. L. Stewart, University of Illinois, land economists summed up the situation. Many farmers have the machinery and equipment to operate some additional land. By annexing the extra land they can reduce their per unit production cost.

The land economist predicts that the average size of farms in Illinois will increase.

LATEST SMALL grain metering devices for automatic feed grinding systems at the University of Illinois uses an electric vibrator to provide uniform delivery. Laboratory tests show it to deliver within 5 per cent of the desired feed rate with the ranges of 2 to 32 pounds a minute. This information was presented by H. B. Puckett U.S.D.A. agricultural engineer at the U. I. college.

Illinois commercial and purebred hog producers will have a chance to put their top barrows on display in Chicago on February 21-22 says H. G. Russell, Extension Livestock specialist.

Wendell Bowers, agricultural engineer at the University reported on the first year of tests with the new plow plant method of growing corn. Designed to cut working the land to a minimum, this experimental operation plows the soil, plants seed behind the plow, and covers the seed with a press wheel on the planter.

BOWERS REPORTED that 1956 plow plant corn yields averaged about the same as those produced by conventional methods.

Bob Finley, University of Illinois farm economist, summed up a soil bank discussion this way; "Every farmer must study his own farm operation, decide what his long-term goals are, and then decide whether the soil bank will fit into this long time plan."

N. L. Vandemark, U.I. professor of dairy physiology, said each cow should have a 6-week rest period before each lactation to assure good health and continued high production of both calves and milk.

R. W. BARTLETT, U.I. dairy marketing specialist, said four things are needed to help dairying be a profitable enterprise 25 years from now.

One, maintain support prices of butter at their present levels; two, reduce the support price for cheese twenty per cent; three, lower the support prices of nonfat dry solids from three to four cents a pound below present levels; and, four, consider whether sanitary milk ordinances and state price controls are trade barriers in interstate shipment of fluid milk and cream. (Fm

Proper Timing, Treatment Corn Borers Control

Farmers can average near 90 per cent control of corn borer by timing treatments correctly and applying the right amounts of insecticides.

That's what H. B. Petty, extension entomologist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture and State Natural History survey, told those attending the ninth custom spray operator's training school, at the University of Illinois.

LAST YEAR some Illinois farmers left untreated areas in their corn fields to compare the results of corn borer treatment, Petty says. Average control in these fields, taking time and rate of application into account, was about 81 per cent. Corn yields averaged about 6.8 bushels an acre more on treated areas than on untreated areas.

Petty says the key to successful corn borer treatment is correct timing. He believes this one thing accounts for most of the increase in control from 52 per cent in 1947 to 81 per cent last year. Controlling corn borer with insecticides can be profitable if you apply them where and when they are needed.

FARMERS USED both DDT sprays and granules in the 1956 field checks.

Even though research results have shown a slight difference in favor of the granules, field results show little practical difference between the 2 DDT forms if they are put on at the right time and in the recommended amounts. (Fm

Trend To Outdoor Living Prompts Garden Planning

Contemporary living is taking the family away from the living room out into the backyard, with its garden and patio.

With today's emphasis on spending so much time out-of-doors, it's essential that the layout of the garden be well-planned, a landscape architect told an audience at Arlington high school last week.

The speaker, landscaper Harold O. Klopp of Palatine, gave the first of 10 lectures in a course on landscape gardening. Outstanding specialists in various fields are conducting the course, to conclude with a nursery tour April 6.

"THERE IS NO such thing as a best garden design," Klopp advised the green-thumb clan. "The people who use the garden must devise a plan for it. As each of us has different hobbies and tastes, so we all have a different idea of what our gardens ought to be."

Klopp listed these factors as important in garden planning: easy maintenance, color, year-round beauty, outdoor illumination, border lines, and provision for separate areas for recreation, service, storage and floral and lawn areas.

Each of these elements must have careful treatment, the expert declared, if a yard is to have an orderly appearance.

"CHOOSE YOUR outdoor colors with as much thought as you do your interior colors," he suggested. "Consider not only the colors of trees, shrubs and brick, stone, wood, gravel and paint used in the landscaping."

Each color creates an impression in the viewer, he noted, citing yellow for its warmth and white for its constricting effect.

When laying out your garden, remember that straight formal lines are hard to maintain and do not lend a feeling of relaxation, said Klopp. Also, too many zigs and zags in the lines cause the eye to be restless and breaks the harmony of the garden. Long, flowing lines are more desirable, from both a maintenance and appearance standpoint.

THE PALATINE expert cautioned against cluttering up the garden with a great profusion of plants.

"In good landscape design," he said, "every plant must have a definite function. Each plant must do its job. Invariably, most gardens are overplanted, adding cost and, later, crowding in the garden."

As to flowers, "plant them in mass plantings for dramatic effects" according to Klopp. And be careful not to have flowers too close to shrubbery, lest they have to struggle constantly against stronger root systems.

Finally, Klopp admonished, "Know why you garden and be sure your garden suits you."

Drunk Drivers Are Getting Away With Murder: Expert

Tremendous expenditures are made to build highways wider and curves gentler, but no road is wide or straight enough for the drunk driver.

By eliminating the drinking driver, 10,000 lives per year could be saved, according to Dr. Charles J. Frankel of the University of Virginia, who for years has been helping the American Medical Association's committee studying the causes of highway fatalities and injuries.

Because of inadequate laws, many drunk drivers never appear in court and few go to jail, states a current article in a national magazine.

THOSE WHO ARE prosecuted might wind up in some states with a fine of as little as one dollar or as much as $350. One driver, under the influence of alcohol, ran up on a sidewalk and killed a pedestrian. He was fined $7.

State laws with 2 major provisions are needed to cut down on drinking drivers, the article says. First, approved scientific methods of determining whether a driver has been drinking sufficiently to impair his driving. Second, adequate punishment for all found guilty.

In only 3 states—New York, Idaho, and Kansas—is it mandatory for a driver suspected of drinking to take a chemical sobriety test. Even then he has some choice in the matter; he can give up his driver's license instead.

IN ONLY 23 STATES is the result of a chemical test accepted as prima-facie (without argument) evidence. These states are: Arizona, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Virginia, Washington, and Wisconsin.

Chemical tests provide an equitable method of determining not only guilt, but innocence. There are some 64 diseases which might give a person the appearance of being drunk when he hasn't even had a sniff.

There is some difference of opinion among experts on the amount of alcohol present in the blood to classify a person as "drunk." There are also arguments on whether severe penalties for drunk drivers is the answer. But experts agree there's only one way to stop the menace — through enforcement. And they aren't satisfied with the enforcement as it is being practiced anywhere in the country.

ONE LAW-ENFORCEMENT expert lists 5 things wrong with our handling of the drinking driver:

1. We do not have enough enforcement officers, and the ones we have are not encouraged to make arrests.

2. When a police officer investigates an accident he usually arrives when the car involved is motionless. Someone else must testify to the effect that the accused was actually driving the car. But witnesses are reluctant to show up.

3. Outside pressure on both police and the courts.

4. Crowded dockets.

5. Lack of aggressiveness on the part of police, prosecution, judges, juries, and the public.

WITHIN A YEAR, an act providing for a uniform chemical sobriety test for drivers will be drafted. With the backing of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, the proposed act should have wide adoption in state legislatures, the article says.

But public interest will still be valuable in getting it through.

In the meantime, something everyone can do to save lives is: When you drink, don't drive!

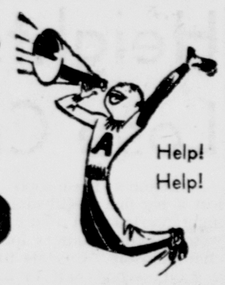
Cards At Maine Friday; Downers Here Sat.

KICKIN' IT AROUND



by Bob Paddock

IF YOU HEAR the cry "7 come 11" around town the next day or 2, it is sure to be basketball talk and not a domino game. Arlington Cardinals have a 7 game winning streak going for them and will try to make it 8 in a row against Maine Friday night. Whenever there's a winning streak, the question always pops up, "What's the record?" The present streak of 7 is the best at Arlington in the past 10 years. Iba's team of 1946-'47 hit an 11 game streak, and the year before that (also with Iba coaching) there were 2 strings of 8 each with an overall record of 16 wins against 4 losses.

This year's Cardinals are not looking that far ahead. They are trying to win 1 game at a time and the only one they're thinking about right now is Arlington versus Maine Friday night. One "record" that IS in danger at the Maine game is the number of students and fans to follow the team to an out-of-town game. Interest and enthusiasm have been gaining momentum as the Cardinals have been improving and winning.

Although the Cards have excellent team balance, they managed to place 2 boys in the top 5 WSC scorers this week, with Jacobsen 2nd and Lockwood 5th in the conference. Only 13 points separate the top 5. Arlington will run up against the number 2 high scorer in Gruber from Maine, who is averaging 16.5 per game.

March 1 will be Booster night at the high school as Arlington meets Riverside-rookfield in the final basketball game of the season prior to state tourney play. Wrestling teams, gym teams, and the frosh-soph basketball team will be introduced at half-time of the varsity game. Booster club has added something new this year by providing free busses for students to some of the out-of-town games.

ARLINGTON WRESTLERS have their job cut out for them. A share of the West Suburban crown is within their grasp if they can whip LaGrange Friday. The Lions are leading the league at the moment with a 4-0 mark, and will be hard to beat.

If the locals can beat the Lions, Arlington, LaGrange and York will tie for the league title. All will have 5-1 marks.

If LaGrange wins, the Lions will cop league honors with a 6-0 record, followed by York with 5-1 and Arlington with 4-2. The Lions are favored but Coach Dick Mudge's grapplers have upset and a championship share on their mind.

DICK McAULIFFE played like a champ Saturday night in the Lake Forest centennial cage festival as his Carleton mates disposed of Williams 87-84 in an overtime and toyed with Swarthmore 70-58. Dick is captain of the team, and the only senior in the first 5. Reports Wally Grace: "I was surprised at the finesse of Dick. He didn't score much but played the post position beautifully, passing off time and again so mates could score. Dick directed his team with great poise, and made the right decisions at the right time.

"Carleton was beautifully coached against a zone defense, with a tremendous stalling offense that broke up the Swarthmore game. Dick was the key man in this, and helped his mates shoot from the outside and ice the game." Coaching Carleton is Mel Taube, formerly of Purdue.

IF THE RULES MAKERS ever had it in mind to get the value of the free throw as near as possible to the one point value it was originally given they have done it with the present rule being used in the Big Ten. A year ago Wisconsin's Bud Foster pointed to a method for calibration of the value of the free throw over the years as the rules makers change the rules.

Foster noted that 10 years ago the free throw's approximate value was .7 of a point because on the average a player should make 70 per cent of his free throws.

Then under the first rule change whereby a player got another shot if he missed his first then the value of the free throws went up to .91. When the rules men changed the rule so the player only got an extra shot if he made the first one the value soared to 1.19. This is the present day rule used everywhere except the Big Ten.

The 6-foul rule being used in the Western Conference as an experiment this year levels off the value to .99. This is considering that an average of 30 fouls are made per game by each team.

NCAA FIGURES reveal whistle tooting is at its lowest ebb in 10 years in the first half of this season. In 2,219 major college games through Jan. 22, an average of 142.2 points per game has been scored by both teams. Last season the average was 146.5. West Virginia keeps the team offense lead with an 87.5 point average per game. Last year the top team average was 95.9 by Morehead State. Illinois ranks sixth in the latest statistics with an 84.7 point average.

Team defense is approximately the same. This year California is the leader with a 52.4 average for opponents and last year San Francisco was on top with a 52.2 average.

The only other mention of Illinois in the NCAA statistics this week is George BonSalle's 20.1 point average per game which ranks him a tie for 44th in the nation. Wilt the Stilt Chamberlain has the lead with a 30.6 point average but little Chet Forte of Columbia is pressing, averaging 29.7 points per game.

OVER THE PAST 18 seasons, almost 50,000,000 paid admissions have been registered for American league games played under the lights, with the league's night paid totals averaging 3,798,488 for the past 10 seasons. For the years 1939-1956 inclusive, the league has had a total of 2,617 night games which drew 45, 279, 955 paid, an average of 17,302 per night contest.

The 1957 American League season schedule represents an all-time record for night games scheduled, 237. This is nine more than were scheduled in 1956, when the actual number of night games played was 226, also a league high. The largest number of night games ever scheduled in one season by one club was the 50 scheduled by Washington in 1953, when the Senators played 45 of them, drawing 384,377.

Biggest American League season for day, night and overall attendance was 1948, when the league set the major league mark of 11,150,099 paid admissions. That year, in 188 night games, the league drew a season record of 4,451,492 in after dark games, an average of 23,678.

Largest crowd ever to see an American League night game—or a night game anywhere—was recorded Friday night, Aug. 20, 1948, at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, when 78,382 official paid admissions were registered as Satchel Paige, ageless Negro hurler, pitched a three-hitter to beat Chicago's White Sox 1 to 0.

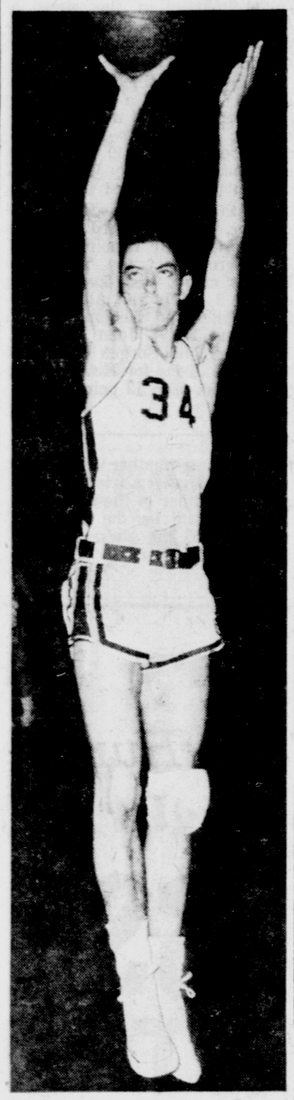
Cleveland's spacious stadium also holds the record for a daytime crowd for a regular season program. There were 84,587 paid on hand for the doublebill between Cleveland and the Yankees on Sunday, Sept. 12, 1954.

Marines To Tell Of MAR

Marines from the Air Reserve Training detachment, Glenview, will be in Arlington Heights Friday and Saturday to offer information to all men 17 to 18½ years old about the Marine Air Reserve's new 6-month program.

Under this new program, young men spend only 6 months on active duty, choose their military specialty to coincide with their civilian career, and fulfill their remaining military obligation in or near their hometown.

ENLISTMENT may be made while still in high school. After graduation or at the 20th birthday, whichever occurs first, the youth is called to 6 months active training which includes an aviation technical school in Jacksonville, Fla.



TOM JACOBSEN has become an outstanding leader with the Arlington Cardinal basketball squad, developing into an excellent feeder. Capt. Tom stands 6-4, a senior guard, and has become an outstanding offensive and defensive rebounder.

His fine outside and inside shots have been a great help to the team in winning its last 7 games, making Tom the leading scorer of the squad. This week the Cardinals play at Maine Friday night and play host to Downers Saturday evening.

Fastex won its eighth straight game in Mt. Prospect park district adult basketball league as Troeger went on a scoring spree of 18 baskets. He made nary a single free throw, nor had nary an attempt in his team's 67-26 victory over South church.

Fastex was scheduled to meet St. Paul Wednesday, Feb. 6, in what should have been a good game with individual scoring leaders Troeger and Otto of St. Paul's playing against each other.

Arlington To Open Against Maryville In Regional

Pairings for the first round of play in the state regional basketball tournaments, which open Tuesday March 5 in this area, are as expected in all cases. The four top seeded teams were quite obvious and are paired with the weaker clubs in the opening round of play.

Locally the interest is in the Glenbrook, York, and Barrington tournaments where the schools of the Paddock Publications area and the Northwest Conference will compete.

AT GLENBROOK Arlington was rated second and meets Maryville in the first game of the Wednesday night card March 5 at 7 p.m. The second game that night will match neighboring schools of Niles Township and Glenbrook. On Tuesday the tourney opens with Leyden meeting Notre Dame at 7 and Palatine opposing 4th seeded Maine township at 8:30. Leyden was given top rating though Arlington won the holiday tournament at Franklin Park beating both Niles and Leyden.

Also Arlington has beaten both the West Suburban favorites, Glenbard and York. The Cards look like a good tournament bet. Howard Lester always has his teams up at tournament time.

AT YORK, Fenton will meet powerful York in the first game on the Wednesday schedule followed by the clash between Oak Park and Wheaton. On Tuesday, top seeded Glenbard plays Immaculate Conception and Proviso plays Elmwood Park.

At Barrington where the Bronchs are a top heavy favorite, the hosts open the tournament against Wauconda, winner of just one game this season. This is followed by Antioch versus Ela-Vernon. On Wednesday, second seeded Libertyville plays Round Lake and third seeded Grant takes on Grayslake.

IT WOULD APPEAR that Arlington and Leyden would battle it out at Glenbrook, Glenbard and York at Elmhurst, and that Barrington would whip either Grant or Libertyville in their own tournament final.

Balanced Scoring, Free Throws Win For Cardinals

Hinsdale's Devils became the seventh straight victim of Arlington's up and coming Cardinals. Balanced scoring and accuracy at the free throw line brought the locals a 61-47 decision here Friday night.

Victory was especially sweet for the Cards since they had blown an 18 point lead in a previous bout with the Devils this year. For the second week in a row the Lestermen evened the score with a WSC opponent.

IT TOOK a while for the winners to warm up. Free throws kept them in the ball game in the first quarter. Sinking 8 out of 8 from the charity line, Arlington trailed 12-10 as the second quarter started.

The visitors tallied only 3 points in the second frame as the Card rebound crew went to work. The locals moved into the lead 16-14 with 4 minutes left in the half. The intermission score read 25-15, Arlington.

A 20 POINT third quarter removed any doubt as to the game's outcome. Hinsdale's big center, Bob Celusta, was held scoreless in the third quarter as Arlington took a 45-25 lead at the three-quarter mark.

Hinsdale narrowed the lead to only 12 points at one point during the fourth quarter, but Arlington averted any possible re-occurrence of the previous clash. Lester substituted freely in the waning minutes of the contest.

TOM JACOBSEN, Bob Lockwood, and Bill Palmer scored 17, 15, and 13 points respectively for the winners. Jack Weber added 8 points from his guard position.

Bob Celusta and Ernie Troptow provided the Hinsdale scoring punch with 16 and 12 points, respectively. Hinsdale outscored Arlington 40-36 from the field, but fell behind at the free throw line.

PERHAPS the addition of a free throw trophy, to be awarded to the best Cardinal marksman, has provided the incentive. At any rate the Cards have been scoring from the charity circle at a phenomenal percentage. In the last 2 games Arlington has sunk 47 of 59 free throw attempts, missing only 7 of 32 against Hinsdale.

AHS now owns a 9-6 record for the season and a 5-4 slate in the WSC, having won 5 conference games in a row. (Sp

Jr. High Cagers In Even Split

Arlington Heights Jr. high school basketball squads gained an even split against Barrington last week, the heavies losing 38-33 and the lights winning 31-19.

Barrington took command early in the heavyweight contest, swinging a 10-4 lead the first period. Heights tried to catch up, but Coach Bob Spinks' lads found themselves only taking turns with their opponents in making buckets.

Barrington led at the half by 9, at the 3-quarter mark by 7. Fred Lussow tallied 20 points for the locals, including 4 points the second period, 4 the third and 12 the final stanza. For Barrington it was Douglas with 14.

Heights Sophs 1 Game Out Of First Place

The Cardinals have won 7 in a row, but with each victory the pressure has mounted for Coach Howard Lester's Arlington cagers.

The locals disposed of Hinsdale in sturdy fashion Friday night, with rebounding and a sterling defense paying off. Actually, it is the maturing of the Heights team that has a bunch of boys with a definite plan of attack in mind.

They methodically carry out their plan, no longer get rattled, know they can expect "the worm to turn" soon but work towards winning, game by game.

FRIDAY NIGHT it will be off to Maine for the Cardinals. Maine whipped the locals by 5 the other time on the Arlington court. This time the Demons will have the home court advantage. They have 6-6 Gebbie at center and 6-4 McKee at forward. Both are outstanding rebounders.

And Heights must stop Gruber, who tallied 17 against Arlington the last time. The Cards missed 21 free throws the other time against Maine, have improved their accuracy since. Ten of those 21 misses were "first throws" that would have brought 10 more attempts if they had been made.

THE CARDINALS will play host to Downers Grove Saturday night. Downers beat the Lestermen by 2 points down there earlier in the year. Score had been tied the end of the third quarter, 34-all, with Downers winning a last half spurt 52-50. Here again the locals counted only 10 of 19 charities.

Downers has in Bandeson and Lutgens, both good scorers. Lutgens stands 6-4 and is the leading scorer. Two forwards stand 6-3, a guard 6 feet, and other spot could be filled by another 6-2 man, just about meeting Heights even on height.

THE VARSITY defense has paid off for Arlington. The Cardinals held Hinsdale to just 25 points 'til the fourth quarter when substitutions were made. Celusta, leading Red Devil threat, was held to just 3 baskets until the reserves took over.

Hinsdale tried the press that had been so successful before and went nowhere this time. Bill Palmer played the Hinsdale game with a heavy pad on his injured shoulder, but is expected to see action in both games this weekend without the bandage.

Halftime entertainment Saturday night will include exhibition by the Orchesis group, led by Miss Bond of the high school staff. The organ will provide the music.

CARD Frosh-Sophs will have to be pressure cagers both nights. Since losing to Hinsdale last week they have to keep on winning every game and hope Hinsdale is knocked off in order to gain a tie for the league title.

Arlington sophs beat Maine before on the Heights court, but were 2 down at the half. Perry and Peterson are outstanding Maine sophs who'll have to be stopped if Coach Frank Bohac's boys expect to keep just 1 notch behind Hinsdale in the conference race.

ARLINGTON proved the nemesis to Downers Grove earlier in the season. The visitors Saturday hadn't lost a game until Heights whipped them. They haven't won a game since.

That game was a close affair until the latter part of the third frame. The game then broke open and Arlington took home the marbles. Top scorer for Downers is Current. Arlington will have to win both games this week to stay in the running.

Arlington tried too hard against Hinsdale, and tightened that second half to go down to defeat. The third period Heights made just 1 point while Hinsdale made 6 straight, enough to break the back of the locals. (Sp

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

IN OUR BOOK it is all over in the Northwest conference except the fight for the places below first in the standings. If Grant can beat a good Palatine team with 2 regulars out sick and injured, then we cannot see the Bulldogs finishing the season with 2 or 3 defeats in the remaining 5 games, to mar their otherwise perfect 9-0 record.

Larry Leon of Antioch thinks Grant will lose a game to Fenton or Grayslake or Glenbrook before the Sequoits meet them February 22 but we think this is just wishful thinking.

Antioch might upset the Grant team when they meet, for Antioch has shown remarkable comeback power and competitive spirit but it is not likely to make much difference in the final except to give Antioch second place.

PALATINE could not ask for better breaks than they got in their big crucial games with Antioch and Grant the past 2 weeks. In the Antioch game 2 weeks ago Palatine trailed by 4 when Jerry Huml and Art Hanke went out on fouls but the Pirates could not make up the deficit because Antioch subs were too accurate on free throws.

On top of that Antioch played without regular guard, Sid Parker, who had just finished his 8 semesters of eligibility.

Up at Grant they met a team with two regulars, Russ Connelly and Dick Grenell, on the sidelines due to sickness and injuries, yet still could not quite take advantage of the situation. Regardless of the fact that the Pirates dropped to third with a 6-3 record, they have been in the race much longer than any of the most optimistic fans anticipated. In fact, few people even figured the Pirates to have a chance for the first division let alone push the leaders right down to the wire.

DENNY FREUND of Wauconda and Lars Henriksen of Fenton are staging the most spirited scoring race in Northwest conference history. Both have been setting a sizzling pace in recent games. Henriksen led 7 weeks in a row but Freund dropped in 35 points 2 weeks ago to take a 3 point lead.

Henriksen's 31 points to Freund's 29 last week narrowed the margin to one point, 212 to 211. Neither of these boys is 6 feet tall.

Freund has an advantage in the remaining games in that his team has won no games and cannot get out of the cellar while Henriksen's Fenton team has a first division spot to protect and winning games means more to Henriksen and his mates than winning the scoring title.

SEEDINGS in the Glenbrook regional were exactly as we predicted. Top seeded Leyden meets Notre Dame rated 8 and 4th rated Maine meets 5th rated Palatine in the upper bracket playing the first night of the tournament Tuesday March 5. In the lower bracket second seeded Arlington meets 7th rated Maryville and third seeded Niles plays the host school, Glenbrook, rated 6th. This should be a good tournament.

Coaches and athletic directors of the schools involved were served a delicious buffet supper by the tournament host school, Glenbrook, last week Monday night as a part of a get together to discuss tournament plans.

A significant change in admission rate was a straight gate price of $1.00 for all sessions with advance sale of student tickets in the participating schools at a 50c rate. Wes Bovinet, Glenbrook principal, is the tournament manager.

LES HARMAN, administrative assistant to Superintendent Bill Herbster at North Chicago high school, will be rememnbered for some time as the man who revived Barrington's cage fortunes and put the Bronchos on the map with 4 straight Northwest championships and something like 50 league victories in a row. What many people may not realize is that Harman is also recognized as an outstanding basketball referee.

The former Northwestern cage star is not only a top prep official in this area but has a lot of Big 10 basketball games on his schedule. Monday night he officiated the Illinois-Ohio State game at Champaign, one of a half dozen or more he is working in the big time this season.

LAST WEEK in speaking of Wauconda's rise in wrestling to win 12 and lose 2, we stated they were the best of the small schools of the area with Glenbrook and Palatine considered large. We know that Glenbrook is champ and class of the Northwest after they drubbed Palatine 39-9 last week but we did not intend to give the impression Palatine was better than Wauconda. Too bad they do not meet. It would be a toss up though the Pirates had 4 individual champs in the holiday tournament and Wauconda had none.

Palatine and Wauconda were scheduled but through error the date was set for the weekend of the sectional tournament so the match has to be canceled. Palatine has a few outstanding boys but Wauconda has team balance so the Pirates look better in the tournaments but might not win in dual competition.

Arlington Heights sectional wrestling tourney should be an extremely close event with the host school, York, Elgin, DeKalb, Palatine, and Leyden having a chance on the basis of close dual meets during the season. Others in the tournament are Wheaton Academy, Crystal Lake, West Aurora, Barrington, Bensenville, Dundee, Elmwood Park, Lake Park, and Rochelle.

BILL WEINBERG is one of the finest athletes Wauconda high has turned out and a good competitor, but Friday night he was on the spot to a greater extent than any boy in the league this season. With a 1-1 free throw to shoot, and the game ended with a score of Glenbrook 74 and Wauconda 73, Weinberg could tie the score by making the shot and then get a bonus to win it, giving his team their first league victory in 9 games.

We feel sorry for Weinberg in missing that shot but it has happened before to better athletes than Weinberg, who had already scored 16 points.

One of Northwestern's better men was in the same spot recently and also failed to score. If any of the many free throws missed by Wauconda players earlier in the game had been made Weinberg would not have been on that spot.

The best comeback of the season was made by Antioch last Friday night when they went into the second half against Ela-Vernon trailing by 30-12. The Sequoits, in spite of weak bench strength, have established a reputation for pulling them out of the fire but this time they scored 41 to Ela's 16 to overcome the deficit and win going away 53-46.

Arlington's frosh-soph grapers ground out a 29-21 victory over Elgin Thursday of last week, taking 4 pins and 3 decisions to turn the trick for Coach Maurice Kellogg.

Heights pins were taken at 112 when Pat Harris won on forfeit, then wrestled an exhibition against Clute at 112 and continued to pin his opponent in 4:15; Dale Hedberg pinned Adams at 120 after skimming along with a 7-4 lead with just 25 seconds to go; Ed Gerrard pinned Creel of Elgin at 133 in 5:00 after the match had gone 2-2 up to that point; and John Torrens pinned Smirickey at 175 in 3:30 in a match that had the tally at 5-4, Torrens, when the pin came.

Card JV's Beat Hinsdale

Arlington's JV basketball squad followed in the steps of of their big brothers Saturday morning by whipping Hinsdale reserves, 60-38.

Coach Dick Kinneman's boys started slow with a 11-6 lead the first period, with 4 different boys carding buckets. The locals continued on to a 28-19 margin at halftime, then let fly with a 20-7 third period that iced things.

Substitutes were used the final quarter, but the Card reserves maintained their 12-point margin. Free throw accuracy helped the Heights cause, with Dan Borgen sinking 9 of 11, and Alan Hutchinson and Fred Hedemark each garnering 3 of 4. John Anderson, Bob Mors and Borgen each sank 5 buckets. Tops for Hinsdale was McCormick with 12 points. (Sp

A. Yes.

Heights Sophs Lose Crucial Tilt

Arlington's frosh-soph quintet lost a big one to Hinsdale Friday night, seriously injuring the young Cards' chances for a WSC championship. Hinsdale turned in a good second half to hand the locals a 41-32 setback.

The loss was only the fourth of the season for the sophs, two of which came at the hands of Hinsdale's fine club. Arlington must now depend on some other team to upend the league-leading Devils if any title hopes are to be retained.

THE CARDS, obviously shaken by the pressure, were far under par, scoring only 3 points in the first quarter. Hinsdale, only slightly better off in the first quarter, took a 6-3 lead.

An Arlington rally tied the score at 12-12 with 2 minutes left in the half. Both teams were playing better ball when the halftime buzzer sounded with the score 16-16.

THE THIRD quarter proved fatal as Hinsdale moved ahead 22-16 and proceded to a 32-23 third quarter advantage. The Devil zone defense held the locals at a distance. Poor out-shooting and weak rebounding were deciding factors.

Arlington put up a good fight in the final quarter, cutting the lead to 8 points with 1:40 left. However, the Hinsdale lead was too big to overcome.

SEVEN HINSDALE players entered the scoring column, with center Steve Goulding's 14 points leading the way. Dave Varnado (10) and Lee Magnuson (9) were high for the losers. Arlington scored only 11 field goals for the evening. (Sp

Arlington Wrestlers 3rd To Evanston And Elgin

Arlington's varsity wrestlers finished third to Evanston and Elgin in a triangular in the Heights gym Saturday. Evanston tallied 59, Elgin 40 and Heights 36.

Meet was conducted like a double dual, though team points were kept on the triangular basis.

Jerry Bonn did a good job for Heights at 103, pinning Wells of Evanston in 5:54 and trimming Johnson of Elgin 2-0.

RALPH CARLINO continued to win at 112. He pinned Ensign of Elgin in 3:10 and defeated Runnette of Evanston 5-2. Ralph's only loss this season has been to Greiner of Evanston. Greiner competed at 120 Saturday.

George Steil was down to 120 for the triangular, and did a good job against Greiner in holding him to a 3-3 draw. It was the first bout Greiner hadn't won all season. Steil then lost to Kramer of Elgin 5-3.

George Carlson performed at 127 for the first time for Heights, and lost both bouts.

ED SCHUMACHER did a good job at 133, losing by a single point to Waukegan tournament champion Sheppard of Evanston. Ed previously whipped Puffraff of Elgin 8-3. Ed is still improving.

Dick Leckband pinned Kane of Elgin in 4:25, then lost to Ashmore of Evanston 2-0 when he was tied up in the legs.

Dave Ebert, up from the frosh-sophs, was at 145 with the varsity for the first time, lost both bouts.

JEFF HEINTZ did a good job against 2 good boys, particularly against Sunderlage of Elgin. The pair drew at 4-all. Jeff then lost to Kamin of Evanston 3-1.

Lee Askelof was in the lineup for the first time, competing overweight at 175. Denny Zapp, regular at this spot, was out with an injury.

Dean Schneck continued to win, doing a good job at heavyweight. He pinned Barron of Elgin in 1:30 and defeated Howard of Evanston 1-0.

Pat Harris, regular 127 man, was out with the flu. (Sp

Arlington's freshman 'A' basketball squad downed Hinsdale Saturday 48-37, leading all the way.

Coach Ken Schaller's boys chalked up a 9-4 margin the opening period and extended it to 21-14 at the half. An 11-4 spurt the third quarter put the game on ice with Coach Schaller substituting freely the final period.

Dan Striegel was high for the winners with 16 points, followed by 5 boys who scored 5-7 points each. Dutkovich was tops for the losers with 16. (Sp

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Well-Fed Dogs

A discussion with friends who recently purchased a new puppy, relative to what the animal should be fed, points out that today people are more than ever aware that a well fed dog is more likely to resist disease.

Facts searched out by the cold nose of investigation refute the old saying that 'anything is good enough for the dog."

The sixth annual veterinary symposium held last year at Kankakee, under the sponsorship of the Gaines Dog Research center, brought forth a number of papers presented by various prominent veterinarians relative to diseases of dogs and their relationship to feeding.

Dr. C. A. Brandly, dean of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine, who presented a paper on "Factors in Resistance to Spread of Infection," pointed out that a virus, just like an animal, has a life cycle and that when environmental stresses, such as poor nutrition or chilling, lowers a dog's resistance, it is in much more danger of being attacked by the virus of distemper or a latent infection which cannot get a foothold in the well fed cared-for dog.

Dr. Hilda F. Wiese, associate professor of the University of Texas Medical school, Galveston, Texas, reported the results of dietary studies made with dogs in which it was shown that the growing puppy requires fat in his diet containing at least one specified fatty acid. The adequacy of a dietary fat in preventing and curing undesirable skin conditions, said Dr. Wiese, appears to be directly related to its content of linoleic acid, a fatty acid contained in such fats as lard and bacon drippings. When reared on a diet very low in fat, puppies show the deficiency in coarse, dry coat, flaky skin and general emaciation.

Dangerous Practices

A method of exercising a dog was recently brought to the attention of your editor which, to his way of thinking,, is not only dangerous for the dog but also for other people besides the owner.

It apparently seems that an individual has been in the habit of taking his dog out for an exercise run, which consists of transporting the dog in a car out on a well travelled road, cutting across in front of traffic, depositing the dog on the opposite side of the highway, and then driving back across to the correct side and starting the dog on a general run from that point. In this particular instance, it was pointed out that the driver of the car proceeds to continue on down the highway while the dog is loping along facing traffic on the other side of the highway following the car.

On one occasion, this particular method of exercising caused a near accident, because the owner was paying more attention to his dog than he was to his own driving practice. It also caused a considerable amount of trouble for people who were approaching the animal from the opposite direction, what with drivers swerving out into approaching traffic while trying to miss the animal as it was running along the side of the highway.

It would seem bad enough to try to exercise a dog under such rather unusual conditions but at the same time the irony is that the individual involved invariably has picked a busy time of the day to do such exercising.

It would seem to your editor that exercising dogs is, of course, a necessary part of its development and growth, but it should be done in the confines of one's own yard or on a leash on the sidewalk, and not by having him chase a car down a well travelled highway.

It is true that many men will exercise field dogs in this manner, however, it is done usually on back country roads, where the traffic problem is of little or no consequence.

Barks and Bays

Not too long ago the subject of the dog population of the country was discussed, and, a result someone asked actually how many dogs were used as hunting dogs. The estimate in round figures appears to be approximately five million, according to research figures available.

Also, the popularity which the Poodle breed has acquired in recent years had led many people to believe that the various types of trim that are used in connection with this dog originated within the past 200 years or so. Actually, Roman art of the first century shows dogs clipped in styles similar to the modern day Poodle.

And, finally something has developed where the state of Texas has been forced to take a back seat. California registers the most dogs, holds more dog shows and has more dog judges than any other state. (Sp

Loyola To Meet Notre Dame In Stadium Test Saturday

The regular collegiate basketball doubleheader at Chicago Stadium Saturday night, February 9, will be augmented to trippleheader proportions with addition of a game between the De LaSalle and St. Elizabeth high school teams, the two leading Catholic prep squads in this area.

Loyola, host to the twin bill series, meets Notre Dame in a renewal of a rivalry that began 43 years ago while Wayne State university faces Oklahoma City university in an intersectional clash for the collegiate portion of the expanded cage program that will begin at 6:15 p.m.

ALTHOUGH LOYOLA lost to the Irish at South Bend in mid-January, Coach George Ireland's Ramblers remember that it was in the Stadium last season that they managed a 71-65 victory over the team they first met in 1914. That was Loyola's first win in the long series.

In their Jan. 26 start at the Stadium, the Ramblers matched defensively rugged Oklahoma A. & M. on field goals—19 a piece but lost out, 68-58, at the free throw line where the Cowboys had a 30-20 edge. On the same bill, Notre Dame, after playing well through most of the first half, finally succumbed to powerful Illinois. Both Loyola and Notre Dame took more shots than their opponents, the Ramblers hitting only 26%, the Irish 33.3%

LOYOLA-NOTRE Dame game will be virtually a home-town battle with Chicago area boys predominating in both starting lineups.

Wayne State and Oklahoma City, each with a record heavy on the victory side, will be meeting for the first time. Wayne coached by Joel Mason, a professional football star with the Chicago Cardinals and the Green Bay Packers from 1939 through 1946, dropped only two of its first ten starts, including one to Canisius one week ago. The other was an overtime loss to John Carroll. The team out shot, Canisius, 25 to 23, but lost at the free throw line, sinking 18 of 25 against 34 of 39 for Canisius.

Here's the bomb
THAT BROKE THE
"low-price" lineup!

This big high-stepping Chieftain started a revolution with a carload of "firsts" and an eye-popping price tag!

The low-price field never looked like this before! The handsome husky you see right here has the boat still rocking . . . with more power, more wheelbase, more room—and more sheer pride of ownership—than ever before possible on a well-trained budget! Just look at what they're making room for now in the low-price lineup: a strapping 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 . . . a whopping, road-hugging 122 inches of wheelbase and an all-new suspension system for a Level-Line Ride that's next best thing to a magic carpet! And this streamlined beauty takes on the field with more than six dozen "firsts", all proved by 100,000 of the roughest, toughest test miles a group of facts-minded engineers could devise! If this sounds like a wonderful buy—it certainly is! Our advice is to stop dreaming and price it! At a cost less than a lot of the low-price jobs, this newcomer is making big-time buyers out of former "all-three" owners!

Lowest-Priced Series of America's Number 1 Road Car!

Give Address On Freedom Sunday

Sunday morning the Rev. Albert F. Harkins, minister of the Countryside Universalist Fellowship, will deliver a special address on 'Freedom Is As Freedom Does." "Since February is the month of the birthdays of 2 of the country's greatest presidents, it is particularly appropriate to carefully consider what freedom means to us at the present time," said Rev. Harkins.

"The topic will be concerned with the censorship of mass media," Rev. Harkins continued. "For example, the dropping of a religious film, 'Martin Luther' from an announced TV schedule; the furore over the showing of 'Baby Doll' in theatres; and the perpetual black-listing of books." The address will aim at re-assessing past uses of freedom and exploring sounder attitudes toward liberty in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tillman of Barrington Woods are in charge of the adult service which begins at 10:45 a.m. Church school sessions start at 10:30. At present the Sunday sessions of the Fellowship are held in the school at S. Park and E. Pine sts. in Roselle. The Fellowship is an affiliate of the Council of Liberal Churches Universalist-Unitarian. As the area center for liberal religion it serves all of the northwest suburban communities. (A10

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The fact that all things are possible to God will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday, Feb. 10, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

Luke's account of Christ Jesus' healing of the "woman having an issue of blood twelve years" (Luke 8) will be included in readings from the King James Version of the Bible.

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (182:32-4): "The law of Christ, or Truth, makes all things possible to Spirit; but the so-called laws of matter would render Spirit of no avail, and demand obedience to materialistic codes, thus departing from the basis of one God, one lawmaker."

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians (3:17): "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

Lutheran Evangelism Mission February 17-21

Two hundred seventy two Lutheran churches in the Chicago area will observe "Evangelism Mission" during the week of February 17-21. Services will be held Sunday, Feb. 17 and each evening through Thursday of the following week.

Evangelism is today staging a strong comeback. It has become a very respectable work in the religious vocabulary. Due to the precarious situation of the world, coupled with a renewal of interest in religion, there is a resurgence of concern for evangelism everywhere. Practically every major church body is employing this sphere of Christian activity as never before.

The 3 Lutheran churches in Arlington Heights, Faith, St. Peter and Our Saviour are observing the "Evangelism Mission" February 17-21. (A

Weeklies Potent Media, Report Time, Publisher

The newspaper was heaped with laurels this past week by 2 magazines, both of which hailed the newspaper's potency as an advertising medium.

Time magazine, in a special report on the spectacular growth of weekly newspapers, revealed that 8.478 weeklies in the U. S. in 1956 reached a paid circulation peak of 18,529,199, an increase of 6.5 per cent over 1955. Estimated gain for the 1,700 dailies: about 2 per cent.

Advertising in weeklies increased 1.2 per cent to a record $112 million.

POINTING OUT that "fast-growing suburbs have produced weekly and semi-weekly chains that are as slick in appearance and informative in content as their city cousins." Time cited Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, for leading all U.S. weeklies in advertising volume last year.

Another tribute to newspapers was made by William I. Nichols, editor and publisher of This Week magazine. He told the Newspaper Advertising Executives association that newspapers remain the basic U.S. medium for advertising and communication.

Expanding prosperity is increasing the number of potential customers for all products, Nichols noted.

THIS "MASS class market" favors newspapers, he said since they offer the widest possible coverage for advertisers.

A growing concentration of population and purchasing power in urban and suburban areas is helping, too, he said.

"Obviously, advertisers are best and most economically served by media which can focus directly on those areas," said Nichols.

'Newspapers have the great advantage of operating on a local and personal level," he continued.

They come into the home as a neighbor and friend, not as a stranger from out of town."

No other medium in the world offers such breadth and depth of penetration, said the publisher.

National Tea Pays Dividend

The board of directors of National Tea Co. declared the first quarterly dividend for 1957 in the amount of 50 cents per share. The dividend will be payable March 1, 1957 on all shares of the company's $5 par value common stock on record as of February 14, 1957.

This compares with a regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share paid on the common stock for the first quarter of 1956, and brings to a total of 50, the number of consecutive regular dividends paid on the company's common stock since November, 1944 (BB

Federal Government Asked To Expand Gas Supplies

Area homeowners waiting for gas heat found their requests used as a basis for a new plea to the federal government for expansion of natural gas supplies recently in Washington.

Northern Illinois Gas company's vice president, William J. Crowley, described as "urgent" his firm's need for an additional 145 million cubic feet of natural gas.

He told a federal power commission hearing that on last November 30 the company had requests for space heating service covering 173,688 homes.

THE HEARING concerns applications by subsidiaries of Peoples Gas Light & Coke company of Chicago for authority to increase their peak deliveries to distributors by more than 485 million cubic feet daily.

Crowley described the request as "moderate" in view of the large backlog of home owners' requirements. "Northern Illinois serves some 260 communities in 20 counties, including the Chicago suburban area."

Crowley said indications are that home building in the area will continue at the present level for some time. He added, there is a large potential demand for gas space heating service in multi-family dwelling, commercial and industrial vevelopment.

Be Your Own Tax Expert For 30c

The government has taken another step in its campaign to bring a working knowledge of income taxation to the taxpayer.

Following the success and enthusiastic reception of the booklet "Your Federal Income Tax" the Treasury department has published another "how-to-do-it" booklet called "A Tax Guide for Small Business."

THIS NEW BOOKLET is devoted solely to the tax problems of the small business man and covers income, excise and employment taxes incurred by sole proprietorships, partnerships, and small corporations. Its 128 pages explain in easy-to-understand language the common problems resulting from the establishment of a new business, from its operation, and from its sale or other disposition. Realistic examples, two fine indexes, and numerous sub-headings in the Guide's thirty chapters make it easy to work with.

Also available for the self-help tax expert is the latest edition of the official publication "Your Federal Income Tax." This popular booklet gives plain, non-technical answers to most problems encountered on income tax returns of individuals. Either of the guides costs 30 cents.

2,250,000 Buy Licenses

Motor vehicle registration has reached the 2,250,000 mark, but with less than 2-weeks remaining before the deadline for displaying 1957 license plates, there are still almost a million applications yet to be received, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier said today.

He emphasized that there will be no extension of the February 15 deadline for having the current plates mounted on the vehicles. (B10

Home Birds Need Helping Handout To Beat Hunger

Feathered friends need stay-at home relief.

These are the insect-gulpers who must look to human friends to provide victuals. Meals provided now will pay off well during the growing season when most non-migratory birds will feed on insects again.

Thousands of these flying eradicators are hunger victims particularly in areas that have deep snows and bitter cold. A ready supply of mixed seeds plus a piece of suet are literally life savers. Among birds that often need help are the downy woodpecker, hairy woodpecker, brown creeper, chickadee, titmouse, cardinal or red bird, and the junco or snow bird.

You can win these friends and influence their peopling of your grounds this summer by feeding them now and into the Spring, according to J. M. McNees, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Their menus can be served up in almost any sort of feeder. A simple hanging feeder will do the trick. This is merely a square wooden frame, made of any common wood, about 15 by 20 inches.

The frame is covered with hardware cloth of about one-half inch mesh and covered with ordinary burlap. Food placed on it will remain dry and palatable, as snow and rain will drain through the burlap, It can be suspended from a tree limb by four cords or wires, More elaborate types of feeders and a variety of seed mixtures can be purchased at your favorite garden store. Well stocked feeders are also a valuable refueling spot for birds returning North in the Spring.

Spread It Around For Good Growing

Every gardener needs good soil for success with trees, flowers and shrubs. On Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the Arlington Heights high school, Euclid and Ridge Avenues, A. H. Bowers, agronomist for Swift & Co., will discuss "Good soil for the home grounds."

Mr. Bowers is widely known as an expert on the subject, and will deliver a very practical discussion on the methods of improving the various types of soil.

This is one of a series of lectures at the high school continuing each Wednesday evening until March 20. The series is conducted by the Chicago Horticultural society, whose active members are admitted at $1.00 each. Others are welcome who enroll with the Society as Associate members at $2.00 per year and pay $1.00 admission.

EXERCISE BIG BLAST VI, drew more than 2,100 active Army, National Guard and Army Reserve personnel from 6 Midwestern states to Fort Sheridan last weekend. Among those participating were Lt. Col. Robert L. Johnson, 308 S. Albert, Mt. Prospect, shown at left, Col. John C. Brogan, Winnetka, and Maj. Gen. Paul K. MacDonald, Oak Lawn. They helped plan maneuvers of a modern army in withstanding attack by an aggressor force equipped with the newest weapons. Major Fredric O. Shar, 512 S. Lincoln ln, Arlington Heights, also took part.

British Blench At The Hangman's Rope

by BILL DILLINGHAM
Special Correspondent

LONDON—In England, the hangmans' rope is presently hanging in the balance. It has always been unpopular with criminals, but now many law-abiding citizens are protesting, too.

"We're way behind times," explained a London street orator. "Look at the Americans, they use electricity and gas and such things."

If the newspapers are judging correctly, public opinion in England is rapidly swinging over to a complete removal of capital punishment. Too many people have been hanged lately contrary to the public's belief in justice.

THE ENGLISH press still mentions the case of Timothy Evans, hanged for murder. When the chief witness against him was later exposed to investigation himself, bodies began to tumble out of his walls. His cellar and garden were well over-crowded with his own victims. Evans, however, had aready been hanged.

Lesser punishment, such as life imprisonment, would give time to reveal and correct judicial mistakes. But when The Crown hangs a man, many Britishers are saying, the case leaves little reason to be reopened.

In England not too long ago a man was sentenced to death for a very unusual, and possibly forgiveable, crime. This case in particular has almost doubled the ranks of those against capital punishment.

THE MURDER involved a man who was acting as baby-sitter. The parents had left the house and their child in the care of a family friend, explaining that they would return in about 45 minutes. During that time, the 6-month old baby could not be induced to stop crying, and the distraught man strangled the infant in a fit of rage. Himself a father, his only defense was that he did it "in a weak moment."

There are a number of women that collect themselves regularly into protest groups outside of prisons. When a hanging is due to take place, and for a length of time before and after the event, they stage quiet demonstrations that are "lady-like and in accordance with proper English behaviour.'

WHILE IN America and numerous other countries, the courts recognize "temporary insanity," such as might have been applied to the strangled-baby case, British law is unmerciful with the Englishman who lets his monocle slip even once.

Petitions have been pouring into the government most heavily during the last 2 years. Private organizations are increasing their appeals. For a time, it looked as though capital punishment was due to be abolished, but the House of Lords voted to maintain it.

Agitation, however, is certain to continue until the case against hanging is won. (B10

League Of Women Voters President On TV Friday

Television will visit Friday night with Mrs. John G. Lee, president of the League of Women Voters of the United States.

She will be one of 2 personalities interviewed by Edward R. Murrow on "Person to Person" at 9:30 p.m., Channel 2 (WBBM-TV).

The interview will originate from Mrs. Lee's Georgetown home in Washington, D. C. Although her family home is in Farmington, Conn., she spends at least every other week in Washington where the national office of the league is located.

ELECTED national president of the League of Women Voters in 1950, Mrs. Lee has been re-elected in 1952, 1954, and 1956. She has served on the national board since 1944, with one term as director and two as second vice president. She was president of the League of Women Voters in Connecticut for 8 years.

Under Mrs. Lee's leadership, the League has grown from 740 local leagues to more than 1000.

The Mailman's Corner

Policy To USSR. Starve Or Destroy

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I have been watching the great Russian demonstration of barbarism, like millions more of my fellow Americans, with feelings of disgust, revulsion and anger.

But while watching, a slowly forming picture of Russia has grown in my mind. It is a symbolical, mythical picture of a big boy, morally ignorant, as a result of improper training, who is now repaying his brothers and sisters for their neglect and abuse. And in that symbolism, I see the image of every other fractious, troublesome nation.

BUT RUSSIA has gone too far for excuses or for reasons for her actions. She is the number one bad man in the world. And as outlaws of the old West were hunted down and hanged, so must Russia be put down sooner or later. The old outlaws of the West were perhaps the result of poor family relationships, yet no mercy was shown them once law and order caught up with them. There is even less room for outlaw nations in the world of today than there was for outlaw men in the old West. And if we cannot reason with Russia, we will have to hang her. We cannot long ignore her growing strength.

We have been voicing our indignation at her antics to no avail. It is time to start invoking some of the punishments which United Nations law provides. A complete boycott should be invoked now. Every possible weapon short of war should be used against her; because, unless she is controlled, she will turn to war, and the stronger she is then, the harder it will be to defeat her.

WE SHOULD have learned from this lesson that our brother and sister nations cannot be neglected; that we must share with them our food, knowledge and love, before they move too far toward hatred and fear, selfishness and immorality.

But Russia has grown too big, and too bad. The only remedy for her condition is correction, or destruction. We should begin now to correct her in a way she can feel — through her stomach and pocketbook — by a complete, all out, boycott. If that fails, she must be destroyed; there is no co-existence with Russia as she is. (B10

IN THE SHADOW OF THE STEEPLE

The New Task Of Church Worship In Changing Times

by REV. WILLIAM McGILL

The task of the Christian community in Reformed Worship, according to Karl Barth, is 'to proclaim the Kingdom of God and the Church's Lord as Lord also of the World.'

I think it could be added that this is true of all evangelical worship, not merely of that part of the Church which calls itself Reformed.

TO FULFILL the task, the congregation must have heard this proclamation and taken it to heart. The ministry of the Word aims outward. It must stir up the congregation so that heaven and earth are being moved in order to proclaim that word to every ear.

Reformed worship faces a 2-fold problem; the outlook of the Reformation requires relevance to the present situation and recognizes that changing circumstances make yesterday's relevance out of date today. It is the same "good news" but the point at which it strikes the human heart may change.

THE 2-FOLD problem of Reformed worship stems partly from the weakness which drifts into irrelevance, and the worshipper find answers to questions which nobody is asking. It stems partly from the weakness which constantly undermines man in the world, and prevents him from asking questions for which he does not already possess answers.

One part of the weakness develops because churches make too little contact with the men of the family. The average minister, in his visiting, sees the women and the children who are at home during the day.

MINISTERS — in the growing clericalism which the congregation thrusts upon them — find themselves slaves to the congregation. For months ahead, the pastor may have no free evening to deal with those outside the fellowship. There are boards and committees and groups which fill his calendar — and leave no room for the word of the Kingdom to be uttered in settings where the world may know that God's will has relevance.

Hans Rinderknecht, director of a Lay Training Institute in Switzerland (to whose article "Laymen and Reformed Worship," in The Reformed and Presbyterian World, December, 1956, these remarks are somewhat indebted), writes of the reactions his organization got when they proposed a Workers' Conference and an Authors' Conference: "The Church must really be in a bad way, if it's trying to get the working-class. Have you now to go looking for new members?" . . . or the poet who said, "But why tackle me? I don't go to church. I got off that band-wagon a long time ago." People expect very little from the Church. Least of all do they expect a concern for those who have strayed.'

THIS ILLUSTRATION, of course, is European; there are greater numbers of people in America coming into the Churches. The question of what they do there, and what they understand, and with what impetus they go out, is nonetheless relevant.

Is the demand upon a worshipper's personality such that he is called to set his mind to this work, to order the whole of his life under its authority, and to be continually watchful in his service.

As St. Paul pleads, "I beseech you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, that you present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your reasonable service."

Plan Spring Flower Garden During Winter

Some thought directed toward your flower garden during the winter will reward you with an attractive garden next spring and summer.

C. E. Ackerman, University of Illinois floriculture specialist, says that you should consider the past season's results as a starting point. Was your garden as attractive and productive as it might have been? If not, why?

PERHAPS YOUR garden soil was not fertile enough. A soil test will tell you how much and what kind of fertilizer to apply.

Or may be your garden soil has poor physical structure. If the soil is cloddy and compact, you can improve it by spading into it some such organic matter as peat moss or similar material. Its about a bushel of peat for each 125 square feet of garden.

YOU MAY WISH to add new colors and varieties to your garden. Check a flower seed catalog for suggestions. Browsing through a flower catalog is a pleasant winter pastime for many people. You can select plants and flowers from it that will help create pleasing effects of color, form and texture in the garden.

Ackerman points out that your garden will be attractive if you use plant characteristics for effect and motif. Arrange the plants so that they harmonize with and complement each other in your garden. (DL

A $1,250,000 fund-raising campaign to provide the citizens' share of the cost of the new $5,000,000 Lutheran General hospital has been scheduled for the northwest suburban area during the months of April and May, according to Paul C. Johnson of Park Ridge, chairman of the campaign steering committee.

Johnson, also vice president of the board of trustees of Lutheran Deaconess hospital of Chicago, the organization which is sponsoring the new 200-bed hospital for the Northwest area, said that he and other members of his committee plan on an early recruitment of top leadership for the drive. (B7

At Iowa State

The outstanding undergraduate students of Iowa State College for the fall quarter of 1956 were announced today by the divisional deans of the college.

Among those whose names appear on the Deans' List were Donald Waterman, 225 Windsor Drive, Arlington Heights, electrical engineering; and Roy Espe, RR 2, Plum Grove rd., Palatine, electrical engineering.

To be eligible a student must have attended Iowa State College for three or more quarters, carry a full academic schedule for the fall quarter, and obtain a grade point average of at least 3.5 for that period. (At Iowa State 4.0 is an "A" average, 3.0 a "B" average and 2.0 a "C" average.)

Records which have just been completed show that 375 among more than 8,600 undergraduates enrolled last fall met these requirements, or about one in 23.

Quite Contrary

Just 'Jittering' Isn't Enough...

by MARY

I am in quest of information. It is said that if you want to know something, ask. I have asked and so far, I haven't received an answer.

You can pick up any newspaper or any magazine and find medical article after medical article. Each one tells about a different disease and obligingly gives me exact lists of symptoms. I like this. It lets me develop them sort of like following a recipe.

EVERYONE knows how to get arthritis. It has something to do with the joints which ache and creak. Catching cold has a pretty pattern with chills, fever and a runny nose. Coughing and sneezing generally accompany this malady too.

When the old appendix decides to act up, there is a form to follow that varies little. But, nowhere is there a list of rules to follow to have a nervous breakdown. Either the medical profession hasn't got this pegged or they are keeping it from me.

I have heard of people having nervous breakdowns and it sounds kind of nice with lots of bedrest, quiet, no responsibilities and lots of sympathy. Who could ask for more. Heaven knows, I am nervous enough for 2 breakdowns but no one will tell me how to go about it.

When I ask wistfully, what happens when the breakdown comes, the answer is accompanied by a vague waving of the arms and my informant even more vaguely says that you just break down.

I keep wondering if it is like the old one hoss shay that came apart all at once. I have visions of parts of one going off in all directions which would be extremely untidy.

IN THE MEANTIME, until I can get me a pattern to follow, I think that just plain jittering around will do the trick. I will shake in the hands in a palsied manner. Trouble is, when I do this, those who love me best say that I had better ease up on the smoking and get more rest. Then, they want to know why the ironing isn't done and tell me I had better get with it.

Anyway, I just don't have time to come apart. And, if I did, who could tell the difference?

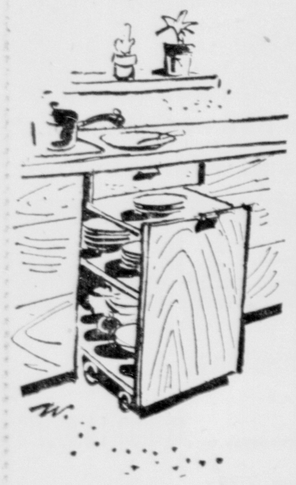
There will be no set price of admission but there will be a surprise event, prizes will be awarded to the "lucky lovers" and hot sandwiches will be served. The dance is open to all Moose members and their friends.

Traveling Teacart



Serving carts are step savers, but often add clutter to the kitchen. This little gem combines the handiness of a tea wagon and the space saving of a built-in. Can be used to trundle china and hot dishes between kitchen and dining area, but when not in use, is pushed into its place under the counter, becoming part of the kitchen cabinets. Made of lovely west coast hemlock, it matches the other cabinets in the kitchen.

Be As Frilly And Sentimental As You Wish For Valentine's Party

Brighten Table Setting With A 'Living' Heart

The entire scheme of your valentine's party setting should be in step, including the flowers and the refreshments.

Heart-shaped sandwiches, salad molds, dainty petit fours, pink and white nougats and fruit punch brightened with maraschino cherries—these will blend with the color motif.

The trick for the table setting is to make it resemble a living valentine.

Hearts and flowers and the lacy effects give the traditional illusions. You can, in fact, be just as frilly and quaint as you wish on February 14. The lacy things and beribboned hearts are as smart today as they were when grandmother was being coy in the front parlor.

FOR THE "LIVING" part of your valentine, you simply drop in at the florist's. He will suggest the harmonizing colors in roses, carnations, gladiolas or spring flowers, and there is a white foam block, that cuts easily into desired shapes for the base of your centerpiece. A grouping of red or pink flowers on a white floral-foam heart is a good start. If the heart base is red, use white or other light-colored blooms.

Linking 2 rose-satin hearts in a centerpiece of flowers is dramatically effective. Another idea is to tuck an oversize greeting card—get one that has a heart design—in the floral arrangement.

AN INVERTED cake plate makes a novel container for a valentine table. Makes a gala party centerpiece as well as a place for corsages for the guests. The inverted stem of the cake plate can be filled with, say, carnations, irises, pussy willows. Around the base, place individual blooms—camellias, gardenias, carnations, clusters of sweetheart roses. These can be used as nosegays for the women at the party.

Flowers in a simulated bird cage—the florist has it—will express the bit of folklore that February 14 is traditionally the day birds mate. A pair of ceramic love-birds are nested in the foliage. Other available floral accessories are Dresden cupids, boy and girl figurines, heart cutouts and fluffy bows. Tie them to the willow or greens that come with your flowers.

Again—be as frilly and sentimental as you wish. The streamlining fad hasn't hit valentines as yet.

Early Piano

The first information of an instrument with piano characteristics was written in the 14th century when an early piano was described as a "stringed instrument of the organ family."

Flower Ideas For St. Valentine's Day

Giving A Valentine Party?

THE TRICK for the party setting is to make your table resemble a living valentine. Hearts made with velvet tubing are inserted in the floral arrangement to give the traditional illusions.

This type of party decoration is designed for the buffet table and shows a modern grouping of carnations and stately snapdragon. The flower stems should be all different lengths—longest stems at the center and at sides. Use warm water in the container-not cold-for longer life to the blooms, or use the new moisture-holding "snow," described as non-spillable water.

LACY EFFECTS in the valentine centerpiece are as smart today as in grandmother's time. Beribboned hearts add the color motif to this arrangement of White Butterfly roses and Littlefield carnations. Cupid figures are florists' pottery. The asymmetrical design is stylish today.

CARNATIONS in valentine corsage are arranged in heart shape and ornamented with Cupid's arrow and pink satin ribbon. Corsage is pierced with natural foliages of the carnation. The color is white, to say "You're sweet and lovely."

PINK LADY ROSES in valentine corsage say "I'll never forget you." Heart-shaped grouping of blooms accented with foliages cut in tiny hearts.

VALENTINE corsage is silhouetted by its entwined hearts of ribbon. These white camellias say, in their own way, "Longing for you."

Long Ago Country Parties Are Origin Of Smorgasbord

Smorgasbord, a delightful Scandinavian adventure in eating, literally means "sandwich (smorgas) table" (bord) and is said to have originated long ago at country parties to which each guest brought some kind of food. All these foods, usually decorated and beautifully arranged, were then placed on a long table and the guests walked around filling their plates with a bit of everything. The meal was always accompanied by "smorgas" or sandwich of "limpa" (a sweet rye bread) and butter.

The smorgasbord Saturday, Feb. 9, in the Palatine high school cafeteria, is an authentic version of this old country delight. Each guest will receive a souvenir menu showing the name of each dish in both Swedish and English. A few tickets are still available by calling Mrs. Howard Meadors at Palatine 1164-J or Mrs. Albert Knez at Palatine 128. Sponsor of the affair is Palatine Methodist church.

One of the many popular dishes on the menu is "sylta," a jellied veal and pork, the receipe for which is as follows:

Sylta

½ lb. lean pork
½ lb. veal shank
1 small carrot
1 small onion
3 bay leaves
6 black peppercorns
1 Tp. salt
1 tp. thyme
1 tp. paprika
1 tp. lemon juice
1 Tp. vinegar
1 tp. gelatine

Cover meat in pot with boiling water, adding the onion, carrot, bay leaves, peppercorns, paprika and thyme. Simmer for about 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Take meat out of stock and put through meat grinder. Put bones back in stock and cook about 20 min. longer. Remove bones and strain stock. Boil the ground meat in stock for 5 min. Add the gelatin soaked in a little cold water, the vinegar and lemon juice. Pour into a mold (rinsed in cold water), cool and put in refrigerator until firm. To serve, remove from mold, cut and arrange slices on platter, garnished with pickled beets.

Modern Etliquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. When passing the plate for a second helping, should one hold the knife and fork in the hand or place them on the table?

A. Neither. The knife and fork should be left on the plate.

Q. When two men and two women attend a theater, in what order should they enter the row in which their seats are situated?

A. It is now customary and acceptable for the two women to be seated next to each other. So, one of the men enters the row first, followed by the two women, and then the second man.

Q. When one is dining in a self-service cafeteria, is it necessary to tip the waitress who carries one's tray from the counter to the table?

A. While not exactly necessary, many people do.

Q. Even if the wedding is to be a very small, informal one, would it be all right for the bride to wear a white bridal veil?

A. Yes, provided, of course, it is not her second marriage.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

The Girls Plan A Luncheon

Dear Peg:

Can you imagine embarking upon polite conversation with a lady guest whom you've never met before with: "How old are you? Do you have a vaccination? Did you cry when you got your polio shots? How much do you weigh?"

Probably not. However, judging from the conversation that ensued last Saturday between Megan, Bridget and their luncheon guests, this is accepted etiquette for little girls up to 7 years of age.

Preparation for the luncheon began several days before with a general cleaning of toy shelves, straightening out of book shelves and cleaning of Leona's cage and Goldie's bowl.

Next came the planning of the menu. Being a modern mother, I thought it only fair that Megan plan the food for her guests, even though Laurie and Ann were bringing their grandmother, my dear friend Mrs. Roberts, along with them.

The responsibility of this important decision pleased her. She quickly chose hamburgers, potato salad and ice cream.

Tactfully, I tried to point out that the frying of hamburgers would detain us in the kitchen when we should be entertaining our guests. "Perhaps," I went on to say, "a sandwich loaf or creamed chicken would be more practical since we could prepare these dishes in advance."

"What's a sandwich loaf?" Megan questioned suspiciously.

"Well, you take a loaf of bread that hasn't been sliced and cut it length-wise into 3 or more sections and between the layers you spread chicken salad, tuna fish salad or ham salad and maybe cream cheese and pineapple, then you—" I was stopped cold by Megan's wrinkling nose.

"That doesn't sound very good."

"Well, how about creamed chicken—you know, chicken ala king?"

"Mother, I don't like creamed chicken. Couldn't we have fried chicken?" Seeing that the sunshine of my face was slipping behind a fast approaching dark cloud, she said quickly, "Or something else?"

I had no idea that the food planning was to become such a problem or I would never have left the decision up to Megan. However, trying to remain calm and patient, I said, "Can't you think of something you like that can be prepared ahead of time—something in a casserole perhaps—so all we have to do is to pop it in the oven?"

"Spaghetti and meatballs?"

Although not exactly the dish I would choose for a ladies' light luncheon, it seems to have universal appeal among children and can be fixed well before time to serve, so I agreed.

Having hurdled that obstacle, I faced the problem of what four lively little girls could do for three or four hours in a small apartment, while Mrs. Roberts and I were having a little chat. The answer came easily. Saturday morning before our guests arrived, I sent Megan to the stationery store to buy several packs of valentines to make. (It worked beautifully—the girls sat on the floor making all those then made some more from red paper, doilies and seals left from last year.)

At noon they arrived and like all children who visit our apartment for the first time, were fascinated by the winding stairway to the third floor and the fact that we are so high above the ground. Little dark-haired Laurie was so near Megan's age and fair-haired Ann only a little older than Bridget that they became friends at once. After learning all the vital statistics about each other, they sat down to make valentines.

The luncheon was a success—how could it miss with spaghetti and meatballs and ice cream cake roll for dessert?

My love,

Patty.

State Regent To Speak To DAR February 7th

Mrs. Henry C. Warner of Dixon, Illinois State regent, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be the honored guest and speaker at the meeting of Eli Skinner chapter, February 7, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Albert Schutt, 209 S. Ioka ave., Mt. Prospect, will be hostess to the group, assisted by Mrs. Clement Mors, Mrs. Milton Haase, Mrs. A. C. Cubley and Mrs. Neal Graham.

Preceding the meeting Mrs. Warner will be entertained at dinner.

This year members of the national society, DAR, are asking the governors of the 48 states to declare February "American History Month." It is expected that a bill will be introduced in Congress asking the President to declare it so, but action will be too late to be effective this year.

In December the national society contributed $500 to Hungarian relief. The contribution took the form of one night's use of Constitution hall. At this rally the National Symphony orchestra and stars of stage and screen also donated their services for the benefit performance. All funds went to the relief of the Hungarians fighting for their freedom from Communist tyranny.

All DAR members will be reminded to display our nation's flag February 12 and 22. (S

Brenda Johnston Is Mrs. Malcolm Swanson

—Lak Studio

White asters, stock and gladioli decorated St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church in Palatine for a candlelight-double ring service January 25 in which Miss Brenda Jane Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Johnston, 315 N. Plum Grove, Palatine, became the bride of Malcolm Waldermar Swanson, Quintens rd., Palatine.

The ceremony took place at 8 p.m. with the Rev. Glenn G. Gumm officiating. Harold P. Berg was organist.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a gown of white tissue taffeta fashioned ballerina length with white alencon lace jacket. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and camellias.

Miss Sonja Mosgaard of Palatine, was the bride's only attendant and wore a light blue tissue taffeta ballerina gown with alencon lace jacket and purple accessories.

Robert Burden of Palatine was the bridegroom's best man and ushers were Marvin P. Schwartz and David Pendelton, both of Arlington Heights.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnston wore a navy blue ribbon knit dress with navy shoes and hat while Mrs. Swanson wore a navy blue tunic dress, white hat and gloves. Their corsages were of pink carnations.

A reception for 160 guests was held in the church fellowship hall after which Mr. Swanson took his bride on a wedding trip to Starved Rock. The couple is now residing at 1004 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Palatine township high school. The bride is employed by Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights and the bridegroom by Palatine Motors.

Palatine Barber Shop Resplendent In 1907

50 Years Ago

Palatine — The interior of J. D. Perry's barbershop has been made resplendent by the use of paint and new wall paper with the decorated panel effect. Fred Kunz was the artist and praises are heard from all the customers for the nobby effect produced. Jim's place is gaining a reputation for quick work and the high grade oils, waters, etc. that are used there.

PLATO CENTER — Mr. Fred Volkenink and Pearl Wescott were married Wednesday evening, at the M. E. Parsonage in Hampshire, all the young folks attended the wedding in the evening and all had a good time. Some of the guests did not part till the next morning.

Roselle — Barber Peters moved into his new shop Wednesday. It is a fine cozy place, and a credit to Roselle, and the builder, J. C. Hattendorf.

Dr. Zochert now has a fine double office in the rear of Roselle State Bank building and his residence in the flat, where he is most conveniently located to serve his many patients. The doctor is by far the busiest man in town. He has to go day and night.

Schaumburg — Frank Sporleder had his telephone moved over to John Lichthardt No. 1047. Frank says I quit on account of too many rubbernecks on the line. "Pass up dat nimt nich lang den het he aver wehr enen."

THE BASKET SOCIAL and entertainment given by Schaumburg Center public school Feb. 1, was a grand success. New receipts over $30 will help decorate the school house with a clock and good pictures.

The Bohne — Bartels suit resulted in a verdict of one cent judgment against Bartels. Litigation is expensive. Both are wiser, but the lawyers are richer. Neighborhood quarrels break friendship and also cost the people lots of money. Think before you sue your neighbor.

Deikeville — We hope our teacher will have a spelling school soon. The genial lady has many admirers.

Mt. Prospect has 9 regular passengers every morning, quite a good showing for this town. The railroad Co. ought to give us better switch facilities, as we receive 2 and 3 cars of freight every day.

Mt. Prospect — Wm Busse, Sr., Ernst Busse, Albert Busse, L. F. Busse, Albert Tatge, Geo. Mollenkamp, Albert Wille, Fred Koeppen, F. H. C. Glade, Pen Carolan and Art Lauterburg started by train Wednesday evening for Flint, Mich. They expect to inspect the Automobile works there Thursday and start home Friday with ten cars, Buicks 4's and 6's. If the roads are fair they will reach Mt. Prospect Saturday evening.

Wm. Busse, Geo. Busse and Geo. Meier had a narrow escape last Monday. They went to the city on conductor Sughrua's train. When near Irving Park a piece of iron from one of the brakes flew off, bounded back and smashed a coach window and struck Geo. Meier in the face. Wm. Busse was also badly cut in the face by flying glass. He had a doctor remove three pieces of glass from one eye.

WHEELING — In case of war with Germany, U.S. need have no doubts as to the loyalty of the German-Americans in this vicinity. Several of the auto drivers at the Triangle Garage have already decided that they would cheerfully volunteer of their services as truck drivers were needed.

Wm. F. Meyer, Jr., our enterprising postmaster is entitled to much of the credit for the great success of the Arlington Heights Poultry Show. He is the secretary of the Poultry Association and is ever on the alert to adopt up-to-date ideas. He now champions a large hall or opera house for public gatherings. All should join him in a campaign for progress.

Never since the days of the world war have Arlington Heights people rallied to a common cause as they have today to the Red Cross call for flood relief funds.

Petitions are being circulated asking the board of education of school district No. 25, Arlington Heights, to call a special election for the purpose of giving the voters of the district the opportunity to vote upon the question of a new school building. If approved by the voters, the school board would complete its application to the government for the construction of a PWA project in which event Uncle Sam would contribute 45 per cent of the total cost.

Wants Facts

The Editor's answer to the article in the Fence Post, regarding water rates, it did a beautiful job of evading the issue. It stated "No Arlington Heights user of water gets by with a $2.25 water bill." This is probably true, as they receive a combined bill for sewer and water. But do they pay $28.00 per quarter during the winter, when their outside taps are not used? That was my last quarter's bill. Last year my combined bills amounted to $115. Do you still think our rates in Palatine can stand an increase? Could the fact that we use water rather carelessly have something to do with the high bills? Why, we bathe in it.

Incidentally, Mr. Paddock, why haven't you, as the public spirited citizen we know you to be, given the public more information on which to base their vote Feb. 16? Reports from both sides (the Village Board and its opposition), would seem necessary at this point. Much of your front page last week carried stories of very little value to residents of Palatine. Generalizations on sewer plant activities etc., etc., etc. We would like to know what we are voting on. Why not give both sides an equal amount of space on the front page? Is it possible you feel that a well informed public would turn in a No vote?

I would like to know: Why is a well necessary, Why is a $140,000 pumping station necessary, Why do all the water mains have to be repaired and improved immediately, Why is there a revenue bond and not a general obligation bond, and Why have you refused to publish articles by the people opposing this program?

Ever since the Village Board almost indebted us, Unnecessarily, for $90,000 worth of sewage plant improvements, (not less than 90 days prior to the November election), I have felt they bear watching. I understand that at the time, were it not for the insistent objections of one of the trustees, they would have passed on this issue. You, The Village Board and our Engineers could be wrong on this water issue too, as you were on the Sanitary District, which will probably prove to be one of the best things that ever came into Palatine. After our present disposal plant bond issue is paid for, we will be getting sewerage disposal at a decent rate, instead of having it go up, and up and up.

Perhaps for your own information it would be wise to print both sides of this water issue, as I feel that a man of your obvious intelligence would have to be misinformed to be so biased on so vital an issue. Isn't it the policy of a good newspaper to bring the fac to the public?

Sincerely

SPRINGFIELD SIDELIGHTS

Legislators Tackle Debate on 'Short Ballot' Controversy

by REP. PAUL SIMON

Last week the General Assembly was not in session while committee assignments were made and procedural details were handled. But wherever legislators got together informally, there was discussion about the "short ballot."

What is meant by all of this talk about a short ballot and what is its chance of passage?

* * *

VERY SIMPLY, you shorten the ballot by electing fewer state officials.

People who support a short ballot—and I'm among them—point out 2 things:

1) There are many state offices on the ballot which in no sense can be construed as policy-making posts. They are strictly administrative offices and the chief administrator in the state, the governor, ought to have more power over operation. Most states give the governor more administrative authority than does Illinois. Then when something goes wrong, the responsibility is crystal clear.

2) THE SECOND reason advanced in behalf of the short ballot is that people are now voting for so many offices that it is difficult for the average citizen to cast an informed vote. Only a small percentage of the voters, for example, could tell you who the candidates for State Treasurer were this past eection, and an even smaller percentage could tell you what their qualifications were. If we voted on fewer offices, it would be easier for the average citizen to cast an informed vote. We would also concentrate more attention on those officials we do elect.

A third reason for a short ballot is one who is familiar with the workings of politics will understand.

When the state Republican and Democratic tickets are drawn up, the comprise candidates who sometimes do not represent the finest elements within a party are placed in one of the lesser candidacies. This way the party can be "united," and the public doesn't pay enough attention to the minor office to hurt the party much at the polls.

But in such a process, the public certainly loses.

OPPONENTS of the short ballot usually say 2 things:

1) The office of governor has too much power now; he shoudn't be given any additional power.

2) It is in line with the ideals of democracy to elect ALL state officials.

I think they are wrong in these 2 statements, but some of the abler members of the legislature feel evry strongly along that line ... just as there are many who feel strongly in support.

What's going to happen?

PERSONALLY, I would like to see all of the state offices appointed with the exception of governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general. Practically, this won't happen during this session.

My guess is that there is a 50-50 chance at best of having the offices of auditor and state treasurer removed from the ballot. There is a slim chance we may be able to take the superintendent of public instruction off the ballot and get that office out of politics — and there is a remote chance the clerk of the supreme court may be taken off the ballot.

Chances are great that for some time to come you will continue to see a great many strange names on the ballot.

And every 2 years you can participate in the great guessing game we play in Illinois.

Letters From Our Readers

The Fence Post

All Benefit

A few weeks ago your paper had an article about the widening of Palatine rd., also known as Chicago ave. in Palatine.

No doubt the widening of that street is necessary, but why not plan for another east and west highway through our village. I believe the planning commission advocated such an idea and I am sure that many people agree with it

IN TALKING to the county highway department, I was told that Euclid st. is being continued to Rohlwing rd. now with state aid funds.

That surely makes now the time to take action to get Euclid st. through Palatine to Quintens rd., or possibly all the way west to Algonquin. If Euclid st. could be put through to Quintens rd. that would possibly divert 40 to 50 per cent of the present traffic away from Palatine rd. and that once again should make driving or Chicago ave. a pleasure.

EUCLID ST. could be put through now if people get behind this idea, since most of the land the county or state needs would be free to them.

All people of Palatine would benefit by this improvement therefore, let's go.

However, I do wish to take issue with you on the female membership angle. Please bear in mind that, "The hand that rocks the cradle, rules the world." I feel that the fairest flowers on this universe bloom in our sub-division, and we must never, no, never, crop these petals.

Too Lazy

Saw "Irate Homeowner-Bensenville" letter in last edition of the paper, and sympathize heartily with that person.

Our neighborhood is plagued with the same problem. A large black dog and a beagle dog are allowed to roam freely all over the neighborhood among expensive evergreens, dirtying others property, and scaring children as well as adults.

If these owners are too lazy to leash their dogs and walk them to proper areas, they shouldn't have dogs.

Brotherhood Week

Spirit Of Brotherhood Key To World Peace

(This is published in the interest of Brotherhood Week, February 17-24, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.)

The United States emerged last November from a national election with a scattering of scars but a minimum of open sores.

And out of that election came resounding evidence that we are one people.

During the campaign there was much talk of the colored vote, the Catholic vote, the Jewish vote, the Polish, etc. But when the votes were totaled, the segments into which political managers had divided our people were found non-existent.

There were those who said that Candidate Eisenhower would lose all the Jewish vote, because he had not cozied up to the embattled forces of new Israel. But he scored heavily in New York's Jewish sections. They said the Democrats would get the Irish and the Catholic vote for a variety of reasons—one that Ike was a Presbyterian, and that some bigots preferred a man with no church to a confessed Protestant. But Ike carried Massachusetts with its heavy Irish and Italian Catholic population.

And so it went.

Study of the vote shows that there was a minimum of block voting by ethnic, color, or religious groups.

That is as is should be in America.

However, that isn't all. That is as it should be throughout the world.

We are observing Brotherhood Week, but it isn't enough that you treat your neighbor decently and respect the dignity of the folks of different color who live down the street.

If ever the world is to attain that goal which it so long has sought—peace for all peoples—it can be attained only by the spirit of brotherhood.

And what is the spirit of brotherhood?

In essence it is a respect for the rights and the opinions of others, whether among individuals or nations. When the time comes that the unpredictable men in the Kremlin yield to the philosophy that every man and every nation is entitled to go his own way so long as the rights and opinions of others are not infringed, then we may welcome true brotherhood.

Then, in truth, we may keep the promise of Tennyson and "Ring in the thousand years of peace."

The key to it all is in the occasion we now mark as Brotherhood Week.

Special Report

'Arabian Nights' Aid For Our Atomic Era?

by WILLIAM D. McMAHON

WASHINGTON, D. C. — At a time when so much attention may be turned to intercontinental missiles, earth satellites, rocketry and atomic power, the White House is seeking the aid of a figure right out of the Arabian Nights to help resolve one of the most perplexing problems of our times.

President Eisenhower welcomed King Saud of Saudi Arabia to Washington to discuss problems "of mutual interest" in the Middle East.

Saud's visit coincided with the increased attention focused upon that troubled area. It came even as the fate of the president's Mideast doctrine is being decided in Congress. It came at a time when Soviet penetration of that area threatens the peace of the world.

The White House visitor inevitably conjured up visions of an almost legendary era. The King, whose full name is Saud Ibn Abdul Azia Al Saud, lives in the almost unrivaled luxury of an earlier oriental age. The fortune King Saud inherited from his shrewd, fabulous warrior-father, King Ibn Saud I, is reputed to be in excess of $1,000,000,000 Saud's personal annual income from the almost unlimited oil flowing under his fabulous kingdom is more than $250,000,000 a year!

KING SAUD, seen in colorful flowing robes, inevitably made us think of such symbols as Aladdin's lamp, the Arabian Nights, harems, desert sheiks and mosques. It is almost bizarre to realize that this most absolute monarch may hold one of the keys to peace in the atomic age.

King Saud's timely visit surely boosted the Administration's Middle Eastern proposals.

The Saudi Arabian potentate is not only the wealthiest Arab ruler, his kingdom occupying the strategic oil-rich keystone of the Arab world, but King Saud is resolutely anti-Communist and strongly pro-American.

He shares the Arabs' hostility toward Israel, Britain and France, but in coming here to discuss military and economic aid, Saud may also cut Egyptian President Nasser, his rival for Arab leadership, down to size by encouraging Arab cooperation with the United States.

SO BOLD a move as this, however, runs counter not only to the tide of history but to the swift-moving current of Mideastern events.

King Saud may be colorful, lavishly wealthy, powerful, pro-American, anti-Nasser and anti-communist. And since his own source of wealth is the great pool of oil on which Arabia floats, he may be counted on to see that it should pass through the Suez Canal, over Syrian pipelines and marketed in every other way that will not interfere with his high personal standard of living.

It is fine that King Saud happens, coincidentally, to oppose the policies of an Arab rival whose action in Suez has created an economic crisis in Western Europe and admitted the Soviets into the Holy Lands. It is equally fortunate that Saud does not disapprove of U.S. bases — for a price, and that he speaks as ruler of the kingdom in which lie Mecca and Medina, the Arab holy places, which are powerful symbols in the Moslem world from Morocco to Indonesia.

BUT KING SAUD is not beloved. His people derive scant benefit from the oil royalties he, personally, receives by marketing Arabia's resources, and whatever improvement there has been in the standard of living in Arabia, has come only from that the oil companies, notably Arabian-American Oil, have brought to areas where oil is actually produced.

Yet, even this has sharpened contrasts in the Arabian standard of living, which past experience has demonstrated, is fuel for rebellion.

It was a King Farouk who produced Nasser in Egypt. Extreme contrasts between a favored Palace guard and the masses have fostered more than one rebellion in that area of the world called the Afro-Asian bloc.

THE U.S., in deferring to King Saud of Saudi Arabia, is making most timely use of a personage so identified with this country's immediate diplomatic objectives.

But is it well to become too closely identified with those in such an impoverished area of the world who live as though no poverty existed?

And we know that American taxpayers will wince at the prospect of economic and military aid given a kingdom whose king receives a personal income of $250,000,000 a year.

The forces that demand a better life for the people of the Middle East, so long suppressed, could turn against us if we become more than conveniently identified with a King who boasts that he is "the wealthiest, most absolute monarch in the world."

Set Reunion For 'Arizona' Staff Mar. 2

Fred J. Oehmke Navy recruiter in Arlington Heights, announced that the first annual reunion of former officers and enlisted personnel who served on the USS Arizona has been officially set for 2 March at the Terminal Island naval base, Long Beach, Cal.

The USS Arizona is still officially in commission as a ship of the Navy. That part of her superstructure which projects above the waters of Pearl Harbor serves as a memorial to all those who died at Pearl Harbor.

FORMER OFFICERS and enlisted men who served on the ship are urged to contact G. G. Bertok at 12122 Robert lane, Garden Grove, Cal. In addition, widows and relatives of men who were lost at Pearl Harbor, are also invited to attend the first annual reunion. (B7

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

We are happy to see that disc as well as component firms are putting far more emphasis on musical quality than on sheer sound. In the early days of hi fi, quite the reverse was the case, and you had many discs that were distorted when played back on average equipment, sounding brilliant only on units which few of us could afford.

But today's average lp release virtually guarantees you proprly balanced sound reproduction even on an economy-priced hi-fi system. The realism and naturalness are becoming each month more breathing, so that we may use the term "sounds like the concert hall" without being glib advertising copywriters!

TAKE ANGEL'S recent 12-inch waxing of the Concert Suite for Violin and Orchestra by Sergei Taneiev, teacher of Rachmaninoff and also a composer of great ability—though his music is almost never played at "live" concerts. The superb Russian violinist David Oistrakh is soloist with the Philharmonia Orchestra under Nicolai Malko, our beloved Grant Park conductor who has just signed a contract with the Sydney, Australia Orchestra (and we wish him every success, which he so richly deserves!).

In the final movement, the violin plays a spirited melody to the accompaniment of woodwinds, strings, brass and tambourines; these latter are so crisply reproduced that you can hardly believe you are listening to a record. Yes, artificiality has long since been eliminated!

YOU CAN ADD the illusion of a "live" concert when you transcribe your discs onto tape or take from WFMT or WEFM via a hi-fi tuner like the Bogen R-660, by "dubbing in" comments just like a radio announcer with a microphone like the Shure 300 plugged into the "mike input" of your recorder or that of your hi-fi amplifier. In fact, those of you who aim at a radio or FM announcer's career will find it practical and helpful to make many such tapes of your own programs, for very often stations ask applicants for sample tapes to test voice reproduction, presentation, style and cohesion.

For flawless sound that adds aural enjoyment to popular music, we can think of no finer current example than Norm Granz' magnificent two-disc album (Verve 4002) of "Ella Fitzgerald Sings the Rodgers and Hart Song Book."

This is a superlative sequal to Miss Fitzgerald's memorable two-disc album, also on Verve label, of Cole Porter songs which we nominated, along with Columbia's 12-inch discing of "My Fair Lady," as the very best "pops" release of 1956. And these songs remind us nostalgically that today few composers can create appealing, memorable melodies and lyrics like the team of Rodgers and Hart. (Bill

Blackboard Helps Learning

THE skills learned at school, like writing, can be improved and enjoyed at home, too, especially if the youngster has a wall blackboard like the one illustrated.

Any Dad can make a blackboard and install it. The cost is low and the work is simple. Just get a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood from the lumber dealer, give it a coat of blackboard paint and attach it to the wainscot of the room either with screws fitted through drilled holes and attached to wall studs or with a wallboard adhesive.

Instead of just one panel, as illustrated, the entire wainscot on one side of the room may be lined with the Tempered Presdwood and covered with a chalkboard material. That way, there'll be plenty of room for the writing and art work of the beginning pupil and her friends, too.

While Dad's making a blackboard for his daughter, or son, he might as well make one for Mother, who can use it to advantage in the kitchen. There it can be hung on a nail.

When a blackboard's so simple to make on smooth, splinter-free hardboard, there's no excuse for wanting one wherever it's needed.
